HEARING CHARGES OF CONSPIRACY

CASES AGAINST THREE DEFENDANTS DISMISSED

Ortie McManigal Pleads Guilty,
Thus Qualifying as Witness for Government

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 1.—Stationed within a hall in the small courtroom, where they occupied almost half the space, the defendants charged with complicity in the McNamara dynamite plots were placed on trial to-day before Federal Judge Albert B. Anderson, who ordered called "Consolidated case No. 2, the United States versus Frank M. Ryan, et al."

On motion of the government, cases against W. Irwin, Peoria, Ill.; Andrew J. Cavanaugh, Springfield, Ill.; and Patrick H. Ryan, Chicago, were dismissed. The government announced it had no evidence against them to warrant their trial.

All of the men had been identified with the ironworkers' union.

At the outset Ortie E. McManigal pleaded guilty.

Eugene A. Clancy and Olaf A. Tveit, none of San Francisco, pleaded not guilty. All the other defendants at their arraignment last March had pleaded not guilty.

Daniel J. Brophy, a former executive board member of the International Bridge and Structural Ironworkers, was reported unable to appear on account of a broken leg. His absence left fifty men to be tried.

A motion to set aside the order consolidating the cases, made on behalf of the defendants was sustained, but the defendants are to be tried together.

McManigal, aged 40 years, short, chubby, and of a florid complexion, entered the courtroom grinning. His eyes twinkled keenly as he glanced at the other defendants. He closely scrutinized one by one the men with whom he asserts, he once was associated, but against whom he is now arrayed as a prosecuting witness. As he looked not a sign of recognition other than McManigal's grin passed between them.

"Ortie E. McManigal, do you plead guilty or not guilty to the charges against you?" asked Judge Anderson.

The scene was dramatic. All the windows of the courtroom had been curtained to exclude outside annoyance and the padding on the walls, provided to deaden the noise, seemed to intensify the scene. A score of attorneys leaned forward to hear the prisoner's reply.

McManigal rubbed the back of his hand across his chin and grinned again. "I plead guilty, your honor," he said.

McManigal's plea qualified him as a witness for the government, for which purpose he had been imprisoned for eighteen months. But it occasioned no surprise, for he had already confessed to his operations as a member of the McNamara dynamite crew.

"We ask for a separate trial for each of the defendants," announced Attorney Hovey.

"What reasons have you for that?" asked Judge Anderson.

"Because," said the defendants, are charged with overt acts of carrying dynamite and nitro-glycerine, and some with aiding and abetting McManigal."

"Overruled," said the court.

Another motion by District Attorney Miller for a reconsolidation of the cases was sustained with the understanding that the government select a definite number of counts which were to stand, dismissing all the other counts.

Mr. Miller said the government would elect to try the defendants each on the counts—five counts charging conspiracy, fifty counts charging direct violation.

The work of selecting a jury then began.

"I want to find out if there is a lot of perjury here," said the district attorney after counsel for the defence had objected to questions asked the talesmen. Several talesmen had said they were convinced the defendants were guilty, and one admitted he wanted to get off jury-service "pretty bad."

"I will not permit any qualified man to evade service. It is his duty to serve," said Judge Anderson.

Clayton B. Hunt, of Richmond, Ind., in reply to questions, said: "Yes, sir, in my mind these men stand guilty now."

all of the defendants, and the charges are embraced in three groups. They are:

Transporting dynamite and nitro-glycerine in passenger trains from one state to another; as Ortie E. McManigal confessed was done when these explosives were carried in suit cases from hiding places at Muncie, Ind., Rochester, Pa., Tiffin, O., and Indianapolis, to cities where "jobs" were to be blown up.

Conspiring to violate interstate regulation relative to explosives.

Concealing knowledge of the conspiracy or abetting the illegal transportation of explosives.

Most of the explosions of which the government has made a record were directed against members of the National Erectors' Association, an organization of contractors who had broken off relations with the union and were conducting "open shops."

MONEY FOR CHINA.

Loan Secured From Belgian Syndicate Will Be Expended in Extending Railway.

London, Oct. 1.—A Brussels dispatch to the Daily Mail, says that a contract was signed Saturday for a $50,000,000 loan to China by a Belgian syndicate.

This money will be expended in extension of the Kaifeng-Hononfu railroad into Kansu.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT IN ROSSLAND

R. H. STEWART TELLS OF MINING OPERATIONS

Conditions More Satisfactory
Than for Several Years—
Discoveries in the Slocan

Vancouver, Oct. 1.—"Mining conditions in Rossland are very satisfactory, in fact better than they have been for several years past. Our properties, comprising the War Eagle, Centre Star and Le Roi, employ about 100 men and ship about 15,000 tons of ore to our smelter at Trail," said R. H. Stewart, general manager of the Canadian Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company, here yesterday.

"The old Le Roi is more than holding its own, its output averaging 160 tons a day. The War Eagle and Centre Star have now attained a depth of about 2,000 feet, and the ore and values still persist. The old camp is far from being worked out, and apparently has many years of life ahead of it. It is noteworthy that the camp has produced $50,000,000 gold since its discovery. This is a record to be proud of. Red Mountain has about fifty miles of underground workings, and this is increasing at the rate of a quarter-mile a month."

"The Trail smelter, employing nearly 400 men, has a monthly production of between $400,000 and $450,000 worth of gold, silver, copper, and lead. Our refinery every month ships about 150,000 ounces of bar silver to the Orient. We also treat custom ores. The company operates properties of its own in Sandon and other districts."

"Mining throughout the interior is looking up, as there have been new discoveries in the Slocan. Lead is now selling at a higher figure than has prevailed for forty years, and copper is firm at eighteen cents per pound. These conditions are having a marked influence on mining throughout British Columbia."

REPORTS ADVANCE IN LUMBER PRICES

Manager of West Coast Manufacturers' Association on Trade Outlook

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 1.—The average mill price of lumber has advanced $3.32 per thousand over the low price of last December, according to figures compiled by W. C. Miles, manager of the West Coast Lumber Manufacturers' Association.

On December 28, 1911, the average mill price was $9.99, and the average for the first three weeks of September was $13.31. Data compiled by Mr. Miles also shows that the shipments of lumber since January 1, have exceeded the cut by 73,336,000 feet.

Mr. Miles estimates that the shipments for the year if the present demand continues, will exceed the cut by 111,363,000 feet.

INSTANTLY KILLED.

Lebanon, Ore., Oct. 1.—Mrs. George McClintock was instantly killed and Mrs. C. L. McClintock seriously injured in a runaway Sunday afternoon. The McClintocks, with their children, C. L. McClintock, with his wife and son, were descending a steep hill when the tongue of the hack broke. Mr. McClintock and all of the children were also hurt.

BALKAN STATES MOBILIZE ARMIES

ARE PREPARING FOR OUTBREAK OF HOSTILITIES

European Powers Working in Accord to Prevent Long Threatened War

London, Oct. 1.—Everything, according to the dispatches from the disturbed centres, seems ripe for the long-expected conflagration in the Near East. The armies of the Balkan states are preparing for war with feverish activity. The mobilization order given out yesterday is being put into effect with all speed, according to dispatches received here.

The various nations concerned appear to believe that the long-for moment has at last arrived when they will be called upon to march against Turkey. The Turkish government, diplomats assert, would like to find an easy way out of the present war with Italy, and thinks a war in the Balkans would give the Ottoman government the outlet. The Balkan states, at the same time, are anxious to get at their big neighbor while she is involved with one of the great nations.

Powers in Accord.—There still remains but two points in regard to which diplomats can continue to maintain optimism. The first of these is the fact that winter is approaching and will render active war operations difficult, while the second is that the European powers are working in accord and have warned the Balkan states that, whatever might be the outcome of a war, they would not be allowed to extend any of their borders so as to take in a portion of Macedonia. At present there appears to be no reason why any of the European powers should become involved if war breaks out, although it is recognized by the diplomats of every country that it would take very little to draw them in, once the trouble is started. Austria, it is believed, would be forced to mobilize a few of her army corps in Bosnia so as to prevent Serbians from entering the Sanjak of Novi-Pazar, which is a part of Serbia, and which that country is anxious to recover. In fact it is understood the possibility of securing that addition to her territory is the inducement for Serbia to join forces with her neighbors against Turkey. With the Austrian army thus partly mobilized, Russia, it is argued, may think it necessary to do likewise, as she particularly desires to prevent a repetition of the situation which occurred during the preceding crisis when she was compelled, under threat from Germany, to change her Balkan policy because of her unpreparedness to protect Poland against the armies of Germany.

Besides their natural hatred of Turkey, and their desire to extend their territory, all the Balkan states, it is pointed out, have quarrels with Turkey arising out of the chronic disorder in Macedonia and Albania. There have been frequent outrages against the subjects of the Balkan states on Turkish soil, and along the frontier, and the guards have been at each other's throats at every opportunity. Besides Serbia's desire to annex the Sanjak of Novi-Pazar, Bulgaria, diplomats aver, wants a slice of Macedonia. Greece wishes for Crete and Montenegro has designs on Albania. All four Balkan states have said they would be satisfied with the introduction of reforms in Macedonia. Turkey has promised reforms, but they have never materialized.

Troops For Frontier.—Belgrade, Serbia, Oct. 1.—Troop trains were leaving the capital all night for Nish and other garrison towns near the Turkish frontier. Many business houses have been compelled to close, their employees having been ordered to the army. The owners of automobiles throughout Serbia have been ordered to surrender them immediately to the military authorities.

Montenegrins Massing.—Vienna, Oct. 1.—King Nicholas, of Montenegro, ordered to-day the general mobilization of the Montenegrin army, according to a dispatch received here from Cetinje.

German Views.—Berlin, Oct. 1.—The German foreign office is prepared for the worst in the Balkans since the issue of mobilization orders in Serbia and Bulgaria. The possibility is taken into consideration, however, that orders have been issued for tactical purposes, and to bring pressure to bear on the Porte.

The exact aims of Serbia and Bulgaria in mobilizing are their own secret, and it is thought war may possibly break out without a formal declaration. The great powers, however, none of whom desire war, will continue their endeavors to prevent it until the last moment.

Action by Greece.—Athens, Oct. 1.—The Greek government, in agreement with other Balkan states, last night ordered the mobilization of her forces by sea and by land. The reason given for this step is apprehension of the Balkan states that mobilization of the Turkish army and the disquieting internal conditions of Turkey might induce the Porte to seek a way out of its difficulties in war.

Ordered Home.—Alexandria, Egypt, Oct. 1.—The officers of the Greek army reserves have received orders to join the colors immediately.

Trial Mobilization.—St. Petersburg, Oct. 1.—An imperial ukase is published to-day, calling to the colors the reservists in 32 districts in Poland for a trial mobilization. The call, it is calculated, applies 221,650 men.

The ukase is dated at Borodino, and states that the reserves are called simply to test the proceeding of arrivals and the time consumed in which they may depart for home.

An official note explains that the trial mobilization was decided upon this spring, and has no reference to the tense situation in the Near East. The note points out that there is no mobilization of horses or wagons.

NEW BENEDICTINE COLLEGE.

London, Oct. 1.—Father Clarkson, who has been in Canada at the end of this month as director of the new Benedictine College at Calgary, Alta. When this venture is firmly established English Benedictines will make a further experiment at Vancouver.

DISSENSIONS IN THE CABINET

LIBERALS MUST PREPARE FOR SUDDEN ELECTION

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Says Ministers Are Unable to Agree on Naval Policy

London, Oct. 1.—In the Victoria skating rink last night, before an audience of some 2,000 people gathered from Stormont, Ont., and contiguous ridings, Sir Wilfrid Laurier inaugurated his central Ontario campaign by a speech in which he claimed the Conservative cabinet is torn by dissensions which prevent its coming to an effective policy with regard to the navy or any other of the burning questions now confronting the Canadian people. He claimed that the only solution of the present situation is a new election, and he concluded his address with that he said would be the motto of the campaign, "Please don't cry, don't whine, don't despair, but prepare for the new fight."

Hon. Sydney Fisher, late minister of agriculture, contrasted the records of the two parties and rehearsed the arguments to the effect that the Conservatives had made different appeals for the election in the provinces of Quebec and Ontario.

Sir Wilfrid, after the preliminary humorous references to last year's defeat, exclaimed: "I ask you, my Conservative friends, what has been done by the present government during the last twelve months? It would sit very lightly on the two wings of a sparrow and not add so much as a feather's weight to its small body. What has been done is not visible to the naked eye."

Unable to Agree.—"The reason is that since the moment they got into office they have been wrangling among themselves over a naval policy. They have not been idle. They have been sitting at the council board ever since they came in to find out if it were possible to get together on some naval policy. Up to the present time they have not been able to come together. And I don't think they ever will."

Sir Wilfrid claimed that the Conservative party had sowed the present dissensions by attempting the task during the last election of appealing to Nationalists in Quebec on one propaganda and to the loyalists of Ontario on another. They got into power by appealing to conflicting passions. They sowed the wind and were now reaping the whirlwind.

DOUBLE TRACKING C. P. R. IN WEST

General Superintendent Peters Says Parties Are at Work Along the Route

Calgary, Alta., Oct. 1.—F. W. Peters, general superintendent of the Pacific division of the C. P. R., arrived in this city yesterday in his private car from Vancouver. Mr. Peters said that he was here on a personal visit, taking a trip after a strenuous summer's work.

Asked if there was anything new concerning the double tracking of the line between Calgary and Vancouver, he said that the parties were out at work along the route and work was progressing.

OFFICER IDENTIFIES HIS ASSAILANT

Lieut. Burns Confident Prisoner Held at St. Louis is Now Wanted in Chicago

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 1.—Lieut. Bernard Burns, of the Chicago police force, arrived here to-day with his wrist and ribs bandaged from injuries received recently in a saloon where he sought to arrest two alleged Canadian bank robbers, and positively identified Frank West, known also as J. W. Stacey and "Doc" Danwell, as the man who beat him with a piano stool when he attempted to take him.

"That's the man. He is wearing the same hat," said Burns when West was brought out of his cell. West said he had never seen Burns before.

To prevent the possible release of Stacey on a writ of habeas corpus, police here to-day applied for a fugitive warrant, charging the man wanted in connection with the $272,000 Canadian bank robbery with attacking Burns in Chicago two weeks ago.

The discovery of a memorandum book in the room formerly occupied by the suspect and Jeanette Little, the woman arrested at Edwardsville, will aid materially, it is believed, in capturing other members of the gang that robbed the Bank of Montreal at New Westminster, B.C.

The book contains itemized records of what is believed to have been expenditures of the gang and the disposition of the loot.

TORONTO CUSTOMS RECEIPTS.

Toronto, Oct. 1.—Customs receipts for the port of Toronto for September reached $1,660,000. In September, 1911, the receipts totalled only $1,293,000, so that the increase is over $360,000. For the first half of the fiscal year the collections totalled $9,837,530, as compared with $7,231,417 for the same period a year ago.

LABOR SHORTAGE IN GRAIN FIELDS

MEN NEEDED FOR THRESHING OUTFITS

Returns Show That Wheat is Fully Up to Estimates—Fine Weather Prevails

Winnipeg, Oct. 1.—Fine weather prevails all over the West, and drying winds have enabled threshers to make good progress in almost every district. Manitoba points record an acute shortage of labor for threshing. Many outfits had completed their gangs before the long spell of wet came, but this discouraged the men, and numbers drifted back to the cities to get more steady work. The railways have discontinued the one cent fares for harvesters and threshers, and this has contributed to the labor shortage.

It is vital that threshing be pushed as fast as possible, but with understaffed outfits in most cases, and some lying idle for lack of men the situation is not encouraging. Threshing returns show that wheat is grading well, and turning out quite up to the estimates, except in some districts, where grain was damaged by wet and wind.

TRAINMEN MAY STRIKE.

Augusta, Ga., Oct. 1.—Three hundred trainmen of the Georgia railroad are expected to strike to-day. The immediate cause of the men's decision to strike was the refusal of the road to reinstate a conductor who was discharged for alleged violation of the hours of service law.

BUBONIC PLAGUE CLAIMS VICTIM

Apprentice on Sailing Ship Dies at Newcastle N. S. W.—Two Other Sailors Ill

Newcastle, N. S. W., Oct. 1.—The much-dreaded disease, bubonic plague, has broken out on the ship Bella Isle, which trades between Newcastle and Hamburg, and which is lying at a wharf here. One apprentice is dead and two others of the crew are afflicted. The health authorities, remembering the ravages of the disease in the seaport towns of Australia several years ago, have quarantined the Bella Isle and the wharf, and have instituted an investigation to ascertain whether any of the crew have been ashore.

Every precaution is being taken to see that the plague does not spread.

TORONTO'S NEW PARK.

Toronto, Oct. 1.—The city council has decided to pay Senator Cox $600,000 for Glen Stewart, an eighty-acre wooded tract in the east end of the city, which will be made into a park.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

London, Oct. 1.—A referendum vote taken here by the London Teachers' Association, three-quarters of whom are women, regarding women's suffrage, shows 2,000 for and 10,000 against. Another militant campaign is threatened here.

ONTARIO FARMERS FOR RECIPROCITY

FAVOR EXTENSION OF BRITISH PREFERENCE

R. L. Richardson Receives Message From President of Ontario Grange

Winnipeg, Oct. 1.—R. L. Richardson, Liberal candidate in the Macdonald bye-election, has received a telegram of support from E. E. Perry, president of the Ontario Grange, who says in part:

"On behalf of the organized farmers of Ontario I wish to express our deep interest in the fight which the organized farmers of Manitoba are waging in Macdonald for reciprocity, and the extension of the British preference. For the first time in Canada you have a candidate pledged to our whole platform of wider markets and free trade with England, the true loyalty policy which, if carried into effect, will stop the exodus from our farms, and build up all Canada, help immeasurably the people of England in their struggle for existence, and draw closer the bonds between Canada and the Mother Country. It will be more help to Britain than a hundred Dreadnoughts."

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

Tammany Leader Says He Will Not Dictate Nomination for Governor of New York.

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 1.—The problem of "unbossed" nominations by a political convention, three-fourths of the membership of which is reputed to be in control of one man, confronts the Democratic party of New York meeting here to-day in state convention. The situation is unique in that Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany leader, has declared that he will not seek to dictate the nomination for governor, although it has been asserted that, did he so desire, he could control 300 of the 350 votes in the convention.

Believing the re-nomination of Governor Dix is improbable, friends of other aspirants for first place on the ticket are working for support wherever it may be found.

Foremost among those mentioned for the honor are: Representative William Sulzer, Lieutenant-Governor Thomas F. Conway and ex-controller Martin H. Glynn.

There was belief here to-day that this convention would abandon the system of voting under the unit rule.

MANY TALESMEN REJECTED.

Salem, Mass., Oct. 1.—Two seats in the jury box were occupied and nearly 250 talesmen were awaiting examination when the trial of Joseph J. Ettor, Arturo Giovannetti and Joseph Caruso, charged with being responsible for the death of Anna Lopizzo, a Lawrence textile operative, was resumed in the superior court here to-day.

One hundred and six of the venire were called before the court yesterday and questioned as to their qualifications for jury duty.

A dozen who were acceptable to the district attorney and his assistants were challenged by one or another of the defendants and about the same number were objected to by the commonwealth.

LOST MONEY ON RACES.

Bank Teller Sent to Penitentiary For Stealing $22,000.

Toronto, Oct. 1.—Arthur Richmond, the young teller who stole $22,000 from the Bank of Toronto, and whose attempted suicide led to the discovery of his defalcations, pleaded guilty before Judge Denton yesterday, and was sentenced to four years in Kingston penitentiary. His counsel said that Richmond had been persuaded to bet his money on horse races by a disreputable racing man, who showed him bogus telegrams from horse owners. This man's whereabouts are unknown.

BRACKEN KILLED.

Winnipeg, Oct. 1.—A. E. Robinson, a brakeman, was found dead on the tracks of the N. T. R. at McIntosh, near Rodditt, and his body brought into Winnipeg. He was travelling on a freight train as a member of the crew of Conductor Hood, and how he came to fall off the train is not known. He was badly bruised about the face. He came to Winnipeg from Minneapolis about a month ago.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH.

Hartford, Conn., Oct. 1.—Mrs. Catherine Perry, a bride of two weeks and only 17 years old, picked up her husband's revolver, placed the muzzle at her temple, exclaimed: "Wouldn't it be awful if it went off?" pulled the trigger and was instantly killed. Her husband said he did not know the revolver was loaded. The medical examiner returned a verdict of accidental death.

FIVE PERISH IN FLAMES.

Millinocket, Maine, Oct. 1.—Five lives were lost in a fire late yesterday which destroyed a house occupied by paper mill employees. A three-month-old baby was the only one rescued from the building.

RAILWAY ROUTES MUST BE SURVEYED

Maps Will Not Be Approved Until Details Are Submitted to Minister

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—Hon. Frank Cochrane, minister of railways and lands, at a railway route map hearing held last evening, withheld his approval of the route of the Alberta, Peace River & Eastern railway until October 15, in order to give the promoters an opportunity to prepare a map of the Calgary-Edmonton section, giving more details and indicating more clearly the location of the other railway lines. Incidentally he stated that in future he does not propose to approve railway lines until good surveys have been made. The company proposed to build a railway from the international boundary to Calgary, thence to Edmonton and on to Peace River and Fort Churchill, a distance of 1,335 miles.

Hon. Mr. Cochrane, in the course of the hearing, stated that he did not propose to approve the whole line at once. He would approve as much as could be constructed in the course of two years, and later on the company could come before him again.

Objection was taken to the proposed line from the international boundary to Calgary by the Western Dominion railway on the score that the Alberta, Peace River & Eastern would conflict with their line, which is being built under a provincial charter.

Hon. Mr. Cochrane intimated that he expected the two companies to come to an agreement as to where their lines would be located.

At a meeting held earlier in the day, several lines were approved without discussion and with practically no deviation from the plans proposed. These were the Canadian Northern and Ontario railway revision of the Sudbury-Port Arthur line; Canadian Northern railway revision of the Thunder Hill branch Canadian Northern railway revision of the Humboldt-Calgary line; Canadian Northern railway, Blenheim to Estevan; Canadian Pacific railway, Bergen, Man., northwesterly; Manitoba & N. W. R. (C. P. R.) grade revision between Minnedosa and Brudenbury.

TWO KILLED IN TUNNEL.

Rock Walls Give Way and Fall on Caboose of Work Train.

Butte, Mont., Oct. 1.—Rock walls, breaking away in a tunnel on the Great Northern railroad near Basin, caught the caboose of a work train, killed two men and injured three more. The dead: August Infelise, 18 years old, and Gus Bruto, 30 years old, Italian laborers. E. H. Brock, roadmaster, received severe bruises. Two Italian laborers also were hurt.

A Record Unblemished

It is estimated that 65% of the value of estates left to private executors is lost either through dishonesty or through lack of financial knowledge.

Trust Company literature frequently asserts that not one dollar of estates in the hands of trust companies has ever been lost. The assertion has never been contradicted.

If this company has not already been named in your will as executor, the omission should be remedied without delay.

MEXICO WILL RAISE WAR LOANS

VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN TO BE INAUGURATED

Official Says Crushing Blow Will Be Dealt Orozco This Week

Mexico City, Oct. 1.—It is expected here that before the end of this week congress will authorize the twenty-million pesos war loan required by President Madero. One prominent government official said yesterday that he believed the end of the revolution was not far off and that this week a crushing blow would be dealt Orozco.

The same degree of optimism, however, is not shared by the general public here. Official reports made public today indicate less Zapatista activity in Morelos and Guerrero, but this is more than offset by their increased hostilities in the state of Mexico and by the appearance of a new revolutionary movement in the state of Vera Cruz, where General Aguilar is operating.

General Blanquet has notified the war department that he does not regard the inauguration of an active campaign against the rebels under Orozco in Coahuila advisable until he is given reinforcements. He advised the immediate dispatch of troops through American territory to Ciudad Porfirio Diaz.

Taking advantage of the departure of Blanquet, who has with him some two troops, the rebels have become much bolder in Durango, and telegrams tell of their occupation of Nazas, Rodero and Guatimape.

Many depredations, including the carrying off of a number of young women, have been reported.

For the first time during the revolution a train on the Laredo road of the Mexican National road, according to a delayed dispatch from San Miguel del Alamo, state of Guanajuato, was attacked by rebels. The northbound passenger train at dawn yesterday was subjected to sharp fire between the stations of Josoqui and Empalme. Lights on the train were extinguished and the engineer, opening wide the throttle, left the rebels behind. No one on the train was hurt.

Death by poison is a new menace added by rebellious Indians operating about the city of Oaxaca, where residents fear to take a drink of water. Chemists are making tests for poison in the city's water supply. A group of rebels are declared to have secured 200 pounds of cyanide from Natividad mining camp, in the Ixtlan district, declaring they would poison the drinking water in regions which are not under their control. The rebels said they would first use the cyanide to poison the springs at San Felipe, which supplies water for the city of Oaxaca. A small band of rebels was discovered in the neighborhood of the springs and was driven off by federal troops. The rebel loss is given as seven killed.

From Tlanguistengo, state of Mexico, where a battle was fought, the federal report they found on the field many rifles with the breech-blown out, testifying to the efficiency of the nitro-glycerine cartridges which government agents tricked the Zapatistas into buying.

Committee Investigating.
El Paso, Tex., Oct. 1.—Senator A. B. Fall denied yesterday that he and Senator Smith of the special committee investigating conditions in Mexico had decided to recommend intervention. He added that no preliminary report had been or would be made until the conclusion of the investigation. Senator Smith is in California and Senator Fall is here conducting the probe.

SAYS ENGLAND

NEEDS A BISMARK

English Visitor Declares That Prompt Action is Necessary to Check Germany

Winnipeg, Oct. 1.—"England needs a Bismarck—a strong man who will take the German situation in hand and settle it effectively and speedily," said A. J. H. Snodgrass, of Birmingham, England, manager of one of the largest ocean accident insurance companies in England, who is visiting a brother here.

"We are seated on the brink of a volcano, a volcano that is stirring secretly but rapidly all the forces at its command to break out and overwhelm us at a moment's notice, and when we least expect the danger," he continued. "The masses in England are opposed to war, just as the masses in Germany are against a clash with England. But the military power in Germany is stronger than the people, and the British government is aware of its plan. That plan is to wipe Britain's navy from the sea and make Germany master of the world. We need a Bismarck who will ask Germany, in diplomatic but firm language what is her purpose in setting this unprecedented pace in building Dreadnoughts, and who, if Germany fails to give a satisfactory reply, will in the dead of night sound the alarm of war and launch the full force of Britain's might against her secret foe, striking while she can strike with sure effect."

PREPARING FOR SUFFRAGETTE'S VISIT

Miss Wylie Will Remain in Seclusion Until Plans Are Completed

Toronto, Oct. 1.—According to a Montreal dispatch, Miss Wylie, the noted English militant suffragette, has left that city for Toronto. Inquiries at the local hotels have failed to reveal her whereabouts. According to information received from a prominent Toronto suffragette, Miss Wylie is still in Montreal, but has vacated her suite in the Windsor hotel for more secluded quarters and to sidetrack the newspaper men, who have besieged her for interviews since her arrival.

Since Saturday Miss Wylie has communicated with the Toronto headquarters, asking their co-operation during her visit to this city. Nothing will be done until Mrs. Flora M. Denison returns to the city, and in the meantime Miss Wylie will remain in seclusion until advices from Toronto reach her.

Opposed to Move.
Winnipeg, Oct. 1.—The Marchioness of Dufferin, who arrived in the city yesterday morning, left last evening for Saskatoon, is strongly opposed to the tactics adopted by British suffragettes in coming over here and trying to dictate to the Canadian women. She said:

"British suffragettes should confine their activities to the Mother Country, because conditions are so different here that other methods are necessary to meet the requirements of the country. They are not in a position to dictate to Canadian women as to what stand they should take on the suffrage question. Personally, I think that Mr. Borden put it very nicely when he said that if the Canadian women wanted the suffrage they should get together and ask for it, and, no doubt, if the time was ripe, it would be given them."

The marchioness, after visiting Saskatoon, journeys to Vancouver. The Marchioness of Dufferin is a Canadian by birth, being the eldest daughter of the late Henry St. George Twining, of Halifax.

MILITARY TRAINING.

Sydney Professor Says Compulsory Service is Necessary Throughout Empire.

Sydney, N. S. W., Oct. 1.—Professor Anderson Stuart of the Sydney University, who has been touring Europe and America, has returned to Sydney by the Makura, and declares that war with Germany is inevitable. According to the professor, compulsory military training is necessary throughout the British Empire, and he states that Canada, Australia, New Zealand and Great Britain should concentrate their whole energies on defence.

In the event of war with Germany, concludes the professor, and a reverse for Britain in the North Sea, the price of peace would be Australia or New Zealand, and perhaps both of these countries.

FOUND BURIED TREASURE.

San Jose, Cal., Oct. 1.—Seventy-five thousand dollars worth of buried treasure was unearthed by a Mexican banker of Ensenada, state of Sonora, from a mountain ridge in Barlow county, last week, according to a story told by William Rogers, who says he acted as the Mexican's guide. Rogers says his employer carried a map true in every detail to the topography of the section explored for the treasure. Twenty Mexican laborers accompanied the banker and dug out the treasure chest—an iron-bound oak affair, partly rotted with age. It was discovered eight feet underground at the foot of a huge oak tree.

The treasure consists of $10,000 in silver bullion and $65,000 in gold ingots. It is believed the money was buried by a Mexican outlaw named Vasquez, whose band operated in that region half a century ago.

FOUR PERSONS MURDERED.

Quincy, Ill., Oct. 1.—Early developments of a sensational nature are promised by the officers who are investigating the quadruple murder on the Pennsylvania farm near here. The victims were Charles Penaschmidt, a prominent farmer, his wife, their daughter Blanche, aged 16, and Miss Emma Kaompen, aged 20, the schoolteacher of the district, who roomed at the Penaschmidt house.

The bodies were mutilated as well as burned and in the skulls of the two young women were large holes, evidently done with a blunt instrument. The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Penaschmidt were headless when found. That Penaschmidt was the object of the murderer's assault is the theory of the police.

It is not believed robbery was the motive for the family kept little money in the house.

COUNTERFEITING CHARGE.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 1.—George Edward Adams, the paroled looter of the Seattle assay office, and who was arrested in a counterfeiter's cabin near Kent Sunday, was formally placed under arrest yesterday, the warrant charging "conspiracy to counterfeit United States silver dollars."

John G. Webber, the aged ex-convict counterfeiter, who was arrested with Adams, was charged with similar conspiracy. They waived preliminary examination when arraigned and were bound over to the federal grand jury under bonds of $1,000 each. In default of bail, both men were remanded to jail.

McNeill Island prison, is liable to be taken back to serve the unexpired term of his term, but the United States officials have elected to prosecute him on the counterfeiting charge.

DIES SUDDENLY.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 1.—Mrs. Frank P. Sargent of Washington, widow of Frank P. Sargent, who was for many years chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, and afterward commissioner of immigration, died, suddenly yesterday at a hotel in Seattle. Mrs. Sargent, who was grand president of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, was travelling with her daughter. Yesterday morning she felt in excellent health, and the two women went for an automobile ride about the city. Fifteen minutes after their return to the hotel the mother died. She was about 55 years of age. The body will be shipped to Philadelphia for burial.

Woman's Rights

It is your inalienable right to remand in a range—Economy, Promptitude and Satisfaction. It is your privilege to expect the same attention, progress and efficiency in the things you use in your daily work as have been brought about in other and often less important lines of endeavor.

THE GURNEY-OXFORD is the foremost example of cooking efficiency.

THE GURNEY ECONOMIZER regulates all the drafts by lifting or dropping one small lever. It keeps the fire alive for hours and practically no fire consumption. It saves one ton of coal in six. The Gurney Economizer is found only on the Gurney-Oxford range.

INVESTITURE OF PREMIER M'BRIDE

OFFICIAL DINNER AT GOVERNMENT HOUSE

Nearly Eight Hundred Guests
Presented to Royal Visitors at Reception

Sir Richard McBride, who was recently created a Knight Commander of the Order of St. Michael and St. George, at the time of the distribution of Birthday honors, was last night at Government House, just prior to the official dinner, invested by His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, with the insignia of this distinguished order, the ceremony being of a private nature.

The insignia consists of a star, badge and ribbon of the order, the seven rays of the star surrounding a figure of St. George destroying the dragon, this encircled by the motto of the order, "Associatum Melioris Aevi." The badge, which is worn on a ribbon pendant from a crown, is of a similar design, while the ribbon is of Saxon blue with a thin stripe of scarlet, to be worn across the breast.

The ceremony was witnessed by Sir Richard and Lady McBride's children, the investiture taking place in the presence of Their Royal Highnesses the Duchess of Connaught and Princess Patricia; His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Paterson, Lady McBride, and the staff-attaches of both His Royal Highness and His Honor, the four children being the Misses Margaret, Dorothy, Ruth and Anna McBride.

Expectant Crowd.

While the official dinner progressed, the crowds were gathered in the Parliament building grounds to witness the arrival of the royal party, those who attended the reception also commencing to arrive before 8 o'clock in order to take up the best positions.

The building looked beautiful from the approach, the outlines chiselled in light, while in the parliament-square a varied-colored fountain played its mist of waters. The long procession of cars, with their bright searchlights, piled hastily in and out the entrances to the grounds, while the visitors continued to arrive until nearly ten o'clock, those who came later falling into the long line of guests who awaited their turn to be presented.

About half-past nine distant cheering proclaimed to those waiting in the rotunda at the head of the stairway that the royal party had passed through the entrance to the grounds. Sir Richard McBride, waiting for the first time his insignia of the Order of St. Michael and St. George, receiving the Royal guests, and escorting them to the legislative chamber. Here Their Royal Highnesses seated themselves, having first bowed to the assembled guests and the detachment of naval and military officers who encircled the room. Sir Richard McBride took his position at the side of the throne.

His Royal Highness wore evening dress and a number of orders. Her Royal Highness the Duchess of Connaught, wearing a gown of royal blue satin with clinging overdress of draped chiffon crusted with steel and diamond embroidery, her ornaments being a coronet of diamonds, a pearl and diamond collar, and a long diamond necklace.

H. R. H. the Princess Patricia, who was much admired, wore silver brocade satin, with a red band and diamond ornament in her hair.

Miss Pelly, lady-in-waiting to the Duchess, wore a pale Rose-du-Barry gown, and stood to the left of the throne.

Text of Address.

The address, which was read by Mrs. Hope, vice-president of the Municipal Chapter, was couched in the following terms: To Her Royal Highness the Duchess of Connaught, May it please your Royal Highness, we, the Daughters of the Empire in Victoria, have watched with feeling of the deepest loyalty and devotion the progress of your Royal Highness across this great Dominion. We are proud to greet in your Royal Highness the honorary president of our Imperial Order in Canada, and to learn that the Princess Patricia has honored us by consenting to become a life member of the same. We humbly beg your acceptance of this small souvenir—made by a crafts-woman in our city—which bears the names of our eight chapters.

We rejoice that your Royal Highness is restored to health, and that you are thus able by your presence here, to bind us yet more closely to that imperial ideal of throne and empire which we so fervently cherish. We trust that your Royal Highness will carry away happy memories, not only of our beautiful island, but also of the dutiful affection of the "Daughters of the Empire."

Signed: Ida Geraldine Home, 1st vice-regent, Municipal Chapter; Emma Jones, 1st vice-regent, Camosun Chapter; Lilla Day, regent, Coronation Chapter; Susan Sampson, regent, Gonzales Chapter; Beatrice M. Hasell, regent, Florence Nightingale Chapter; Margaret McKicking, regent, Lady Douglas Chapter; Elita Deane, 1st vice-regent, Agnes Deane Cameron Chapter; Janet Elizabeth Mesher, regent, Trafalgar Chapter; Flora Burns, regent, Daisy Chain Chapter; Charlotte Hanington, honorary secretary, Municipal Chapter.

Decorations.

The decorations of the legislative chamber were very beautiful though simple, festoons of smilax and asparagus fern depending from the centre of the ceiling to the sides of the room, and a net work of greenery and Japanese poppies softening the background of the dais where Their Royal Highnesses were seated. In the gallery behind the throne Mr. Turandone's orchestra was massed, this, after the conclusion of the presentations, flooding the room with music.

The first to be presented were the members of the official circle, who were announced in the order of precedence, the other guests then slowly filing past the throne, and making obeisance to Their Royal Highnesses, returning through the opposite door. The ceremony of presentation was gone through with very quickly, despite the great number of guests, the arrangements being so perfectly organized that no hitch occurred in the passing of the long defile. Each person presented two cards, one at the entrance to the legislative hall, the other to the aides-de-camp, who in turn passed them on to the military secretary, Colonel Lowther. The latter announced the names in a clear voice, that could easily be heard in the furthest part of the room.

Transformed Drill Hall. Passing out into the west wing of the building the guests were allowed to wander about to look at the decorations and lighting or to repair to the Drill hall, where, under the charge of James Robinson, a delightful supper had been prepared. The big hall, converted for the occasion into a warmly-illuminated and brightly decorated vista, gay with the national colors, flags, pennants, and red, white, and blue lights, presented an animated and beautiful picture with its groups of handsomely gowned women and its flower-decked tables. The passage-way which connected the parliament buildings with the Drill hall was hastily improved for the occasion, but fulfilled its purpose in every possible way, the walls being hung with red, and a carpet of the same color laid the entire distance from the buildings to the hall.

Perhaps it was in the legislative hall, however, that the scene bore its brightest aspect, the galleries being filled with guests who looked down at the picture below. Here, while the presentations progressed, the detachment of naval and military officers gave the added brightness of uniforms, while one could better see the texture of the ladies' gowns.

AN EMERGENCY SESSION.

The statement made by Hon. Martin Burrell at Vancouver last Saturday, disclosing the object for which parliament is called to meet in November, would be disquieting were it not for the fact that it appears generally understood that no announcement of a permanent naval policy will be made. An "emergency" session is to be summoned to deal with an emergency, and the disappointed Borden press is endeavoring to make the best of it. The Montreal Star, which has been the only vociferous paper in Canada in the advocacy of a direct contribution of the cost of two or three dreadnoughts, has since Mr. Borden's return from England, considerably "bowed its crest" and tamed its heart of fire. During the whole period of the Prime Minister's visit the Star worked and overworked the German peril. There was no evil imaginable to the Empire which did not become real in the terrorized vision of the hysterical organ. Several other Borden papers tried to follow the pace set by the Montreal paper, but they were all distanced and winded. The Star won by a good quarter of a mile.

Mr. Borden is now returned. He has been banquipped at Montreal and Toronto and has said nothing. Presto, change! The organs do not know what to say, but the Star makes the best of it and delivers itself as follows:

"We shall turn now with confidence to the meeting of parliament in a little over a month. No government could be expected to get a new and effective naval policy ready in less time. Our ministers will have the facts, we presume, and we shall look for a dignified and loyal programme based upon them. That programme we will consider on its merits when it comes down, and our most fervent hope is that it may be wholly adequate to meet the emergency which now confronts the Empire and threatens the future of the Dominion. An emergency must be met by an emergency policy; and we are to have a beginning by getting an emergency session of parliament."

The idea of an emergency parliament to deal with a real or supposed emergency is an unhappy thought. Hon. Mr. Burrell does not state that parliament is to be summoned to deal with an emergency. He said in Vancouver that Mr. Borden would summon parliament to lay before its members the information confided to him while in Great Britain. He said the question of a "permanent naval policy" will be dealt with later. Whatever interest there may be in a discussion of the emergent conditions which summon parliament, it is more than ever patent that Mr. Borden is without a definite policy and waiting for something to happen. Trusting to luck, as it were, and his organs are accordingly dumfounded.

Since as was Mr. Borden's course before he went to London, to confer with the admiralty, it has been more tortuous since. The proposal to invite Sir Wilfrid Laurier to a conference fell flat, the people of Canada feeling strongly that such a suggestion was obviously an attempt to evade responsibility. The responsible press of both political parties said so in unmistakable terms. The proposal to invite Hon. Winston Churchill and other British ministers to stump Canada was immediately challenged both in Canada and Great Britain. On second thought it also was abandoned. The proud and confident boast of the Borden organs that when Mr. Borden announced his policy on his return it would be "adequate" and "worthy of Canada's place in the Empire" and "proof of the devotion of the government to the Empire," and an unpardonable number of similarly empty and meaningless phrases, has now given way to the "fervent hope" that that policy will be "wholly adequate to meet the emergency which now confronts the Empire and threatens the future of the Dominion."

What Canadians have to prepare for evidently is an effort to stampede parliament into a direct contribution of "thirty, forty or even fifty millions" to the British exchequer in order to lay this emergency ghost. This would shelve the question of a permanent policy till another session and leave Mr. Borden free from the necessity of making an appeal to the people of Canada for an endorsement for a little while.

The arguments against the existence of an emergency are numerous, but the strongest of these is the action of the British government itself. The budget speech of the Chancellor of the Exchequer this year declared a surplus of £32,000,000, some twenty-five millions of which have been appropriated to the reduction of the national debt. The extraordinary vote for naval purposes to meet this alleged emergency is £5,000,000. Can anyone imagine the Empire in danger when five-sixths of the national surplus is devoted to the reduction of debt and only one-sixth to emergency naval expenditure?

More than this, in his great speech in the British parliament—the speech in which he defended this extraordinary expenditure—Hon. Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, declared that it was not an emergency vote he requested. He was establishing a fixed policy which was to extend over a period of years. He was making every provision to cope with the increased naval construction of the German fleet. He was taking time by the forelock; not facing an immediate danger.

The First Lord could not have frightened the British parliament into an "emergency" contribution for naval armament. The only way he could secure the appropriation was by stating the facts, which he accordingly did. Are we in Canada, then, to be stampeded by an "Empire peril" and "future of the Dominion" peril which could not be made to do jingo duty in Great Britain?

It is high time the people of Canada prepared themselves to abandon shallow and hypocritical sentiment, bogey scares, flag-waving and the more or less expedient cries that have been so characteristic of the whole procedure of the Borden government since it came into power a short year ago. The best way for Canadians to do this is to steady themselves for calm deliberative judgment; to demand the facts and refuse to be stampeded into extravagant expenditure by the representations of a partisan press whose only ambition is to keep its party in power.

EXPERIMENTAL FARM.

The morning paper, which last week frankly admitted that a mead of credit was due the Liberal government in the matter of securing the site for and initiating the experimental farm on Saanich peninsula, to-day reverses itself, and, doubtless under the inspiration of Hon. Martin Burrell, takes back what it then said. It declares that though a plot of land was "offered" to the Liberal government no "deal" was made until the Borden government came into power. What Hon. Mr. Burrell evidently does not know is that one of the chief resolutions discussed at a meeting of the local Conservative executive was the necessity of impressing upon the Borden government the implementing of the bargain made by the Liberals. The fact was impressed upon Mr. G. H. Barnard, M. P., that unless this was done, the first black eye would be administered to the new government.

To cut a long story short, will the chief government organ tell its readers whether the land purchased by the Borden government was the same tract of land "offered" to the Liberal government? Was the price paid for the tract the same as agreed between the Liberal representatives and the owners of the property? Was this the land "selected" by Mr. Grisdale when he was sent out to British Columbia by the Liberal government? If these questions are truthfully answered nothing more need be said.

ENCOURAGING IMMIGRATION.

The preponderance of immigration into Canada from the countries of lower Europe over what may be termed "picked British immigration," is likely to be thwarted by the serious attention now being given to the important subject by responsible bodies in Great Britain. The London County Council has undertaken a scheme of emigration and land settlement supplementary to those carried on by the Dominion and Provincial governments.

From a statement made by Mr. Harbord, a member of the County Council and senior member of the teachers' delegations which have been touring Canada on behalf of the Council, it appears that an association is being formed of prominent educators and public men in England and Canada who will select graduates of the common and grammar schools in England to become settlers in Western Canada. The older boys are to receive a period of training in established agricultural schools in England and to be settled in communities of twenty on large tracts of government and railway land in Alberta and other western provinces. The association will be liberally endowed with funds for the purpose of providing the settlements with standard cattle, modern implements and other equipment necessary for farms. Intending settlers will also be assisted in their passages and they will be required as they grow prosperous to repay their indebtedness to the society—whether in the form of passage money, stocking the farm or agricultural machinery. The land, in other words, will be held in trust by the association until the indebtedness is repaid, when it will become the absolute property of the settlers. The chief work of the association in England will be in selecting suitable boys, who can be depended upon to carry through what they undertake.

The problems of British immigration into Canada will not be satisfactorily settled until they are intelligently attacked by responsible bodies in the United Kingdom, and the project outlined by the new association is one of the most promising that has been yet evolved. When the management of and responsibility for the success of colonization or settlement schemes is held by those who stand sponsor for the character and personality of assisted immigration, much of the risk and danger of importing immigrants who will not make good in this country is removed.

So far as we understand the present scheme, it is intended to launch the first settlements in Alberta. We think there is an opportunity here for the government of British Columbia to present the inducements which this province offers to intending settlers of the class designated in the scheme.

PEACE CONGRESS.

Every country in the world except Italy is reported to have its representative at the Peace Congress now assembled in Geneva. Peace conferences when constituted of international delegates are chiefly valuable in assembling and organizing the sentiment for universal peace which undoubtedly prevails in every nation among the pastoral and industrial sections of the population. War talk, belligerency and jingoism are the prerogatives of the demagogue and the politician. When the common people demonstrate that an overwhelming majority of their own class is opposed to war the jingo will be unpopular. He is only a survival of the bragart anyway, and while first to incite war is usually the first to evade its consequences. By creating or fostering sufficient public sentiment against war to make the jingo unpopular, the Peace Conferences will go a long way toward its final abolition.

It is rather too early to be predicting the fall of the Borden Cabinet. Nevertheless, the Montreal Shareholder, whose affiliations are with financial and commercial circles in that metropolis, claims to know that already the Cabinet is torn by dissensions, and would not be surprised to see an early appeal made to the country and to find that Sir Wilfrid Laurier was returned to power.

The Mail and Empire is a faithful pupil of Sir Edward Carson. The assassination of John Redmond, M. P., should be rewarded by the erection of a statue to the successful assassin, it suggests. And they say the United Kingdom is going back to Tory rule. As Mr. Asquith once ironically remarked, "We are getting on."

Mr. Lloyd George has founded an institute in a Welsh town with the sum of £30,000, which he collected in the course of his various defamers. Thus does the chancellor turn evil into good, and illustrate his genius for extracting money from reluctant pockets.

INTERESTING WEDDING AT NOON YESTERDAY

Mr. Charles C. Clementson and Miss Molony the Principals

A ceremony of unusual interest took place in St. Barnabas' church at noon yesterday, when Rev. E. G. Miller, the rector, united in wedlock Mr. Charles Clifford Clementson, the popular big centre fielder of the Bees, and Miss Virginia Price Molony, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Molony, of this city.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was supported by Mrs. W. Locke, and Mr. Locke acted as groomsmen. Following the ceremony the bridal party proceeded to the residence of the bride's parents, 313 Vancouver street, where a dainty wedding breakfast was enjoyed, among those present being His Honor Judge Clementson and Mrs. Clementson, of Seattle, father and mother of the bridegroom. The happy couple then boarded the train for Shawnigan Lake, where they will spend their honeymoon, occupying Mr. Molony's summer cottage while there.

The widespread popularity of the bride and groom was attested by the numerous handsome gifts received by them. The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of Washington, 1911, and, like many other students with an inborn love for athletics, took up professional ball upon leaving college, with considerable success.

Upon their return from Shawnigan Mr. and Mrs. Clementson will reside in suite 20, Field apartments.

RICCARDO MARTIN

HERE ON FRIDAY

Distinguished Tenor Will Appear Under Auspices of Ladies' Musical Club

Riccardo Martin, the great American tenor, will sing here on Friday evening next under the auspices of the Ladies' Musical Club, and Victorians are already keenly anticipating the musical treat which is in store for them.

While American sopranos and contraltos have reigned for decades as queens in the leading opera houses of the world, including the Metropolitan opera house in New York, male singers of American birth have only in recent years risen to prominence in the elite temples of opera. One of the first to reach this distinction was Riccardo Martin, the Kentucky born singer, of the Metropolitan Opera Company, whom Henry T. Finck, music critic of the New York Evening Post, has hailed as "The American Caruso." Martin is a genuine box office attraction, and that accounts for his re-engagements at the Metropolitan.

In the most popular operas of the Italian and French schools, Martin has won his renown during the past five seasons. He is particularly impressive as Don Jose in "Carmen," Rhadames in "Aida," as Faust, as Rudolfo in "La Boheme," Mario in "Tosca," Des Grieux in "Mignon," Manrico in "Il Trovatore," Canio in "Pagliacci," Turiddu in "Cavalleria Rusticana," Captain Pinkerton in "Madame Butterfly."

Martin often sings at the Sunday night concerts at the Metropolitan in New York, and when he does he never fails to be rewarded with ovations. He invariably sings arias from the operas, which he has helped to popularize. During the height of the season, Martin sings occasionally at the musicales of the eastern millionaires, and for these he receives record fees.

Another musician of no less fame as a pianist will perform here the same evening in the person of Rudolph Ganz, the eminent Swiss pianist, and those who know and understand piano-forte music will be able to appreciate after hearing this master artist what a wonderful genius Ganz is.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ATHLETICS.

Association Organized at Meeting Held Last Night—Programme of Games.

A meeting of representatives of the various Sunday schools took place last evening in the local Y. M. C. A. building. The following schools were represented: First Congregational, First Baptist, Methodist, Methodist, James Bay Methodist, Centennial Methodist and Victoria West Methodist.

H. G. Beall was in the chair and after some discussion and preliminary remarks, it was decided to organize. Two committees were chosen: the first or nominating committee being composed of Messrs. King, Sprinkling and Andrews, while Messrs. Davey, McCanness and Maynard were elected to a constitution committee to frame the constitution of the club.

It was also decided that the programme of athletics which would be undertaken by the association would include football, ice hockey, basketball and baseball.

AUTO DRIVER KILLED.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 1.—David Bruce Brown, the racing automobilist, who was injured by the overturning of his car on the Vanderbilt racecourse here to-day, died at 3:10 p. m.

His mechanic, Tony Scudolari, who also sustained injuries, was brought unconscious to a hospital here.

The steamer Mackinaw reached Seattle from Nome with 120 tons of mixed cargo yesterday. This voyage completes her season's charter to Schuch and Hamilton, and she will head for San Francisco for the Pacific Coast Steamship Company.

A Showing of Beautiful Velvet Coats in Plain and Fancy Styles Now in the View Street Windows

GOOD velvet has long been favored by women who love to wear garments that have a rich appearance, a delightful degree of comfort and possess the qualities for wearing well. They are a style of garment that never lose their charm, they come in distinctive styles, are richly designed, and have so many indications of good taste and refinement that they appeal very strongly to most women at first sight.

There are plain styles finished with a neat collar and deep turn-back cuffs to be had at prices starting at $35.00 that will be welcomed by many women. They are plain but good, and are a high standard of value at the price.

More elaborate styles are to be had at prices ranging up to $225.00 and even at this price they are not what can be properly termed expensive. They come with large collars of heavy crocheted, collars richly trimmed with cords and fancy buttons, richly designed collars of velvet and silk, all silk and choice combinations of silks, and laces are to be had and all are elaborately trimmed with braids, fringes, frogs, fancy buttons, etc.

All the better coats are lined with a heavy satin and show such skill in design and tailoring that they at once proclaim the fact that they belong to the higher and exclusive class of ready-to-wear apparel.

AN INTERESTING DISPLAY OF Women's Fashionable Coats Costing Only $17.50

INTERESTING because they represent a very high standard of quality and embody those features that add so much to your personal comfort, convenience and appearance when on the street in cold or wet weather.

They are not really elaborate but come in pleasing and serviceable styles, made to fit snugly and to impart just as much comfort as it is possible to expect from a good coat.

Heather mixtures, tweeds and double faced cloths are the materials, and browns of various shades, being the favored color this season, are strong in this showing, but other colors are included.

Various styles are here to choose from, some having wide belted backs, deep turn-back cuffs, reversible collars that can be buttoned up close to the neck or showing a neat lapel effect, and others are somewhat plain.

Let us show you these lines. We have all sizes and from an assortment like this, there is sure to be a style that will delight you.

NOTICE THE DISPLAY IN THE VIEW STREET WINDOWS.

Overcoats and Raincoats for Boys and Youths

ARE SELLING AT TEMPTING PRICES

MACKINTOSHES, cravenettes and other waterproof cloths are to be had and every coat is made up in the latest and most practical style. There are coats with the popular military collar, the convenient two-way collar and the roll collar with neat lapels to choose from and as there are all sizes from 24 to 34 they should be in strong demand now that the weather has shown signs of breaking and made their use a present necessity.

It is impossible to exaggerate their value in this description and we realize that the garments must be seen before they can be readily appreciated. Notice the display in the View street windows or see the garments at close range in the department.

PRICES RANGE FROM $4.75 UP TO $10.00

Snug Nightgowns for the Little Girls

CHILLY and damp nights make it imperative to change from the cotton garments and replace them with a fleecy flannelette garment to be sure of being snug and comfortable during the night.

Here are some fine examples of inexpensive but serviceable and delightfully comfortable garments for the little girls. They are made from a fleecy flannelette that is so velvety to the touch and so delightfully warm that they would be well worth buying even if they were to cost double the money.

However, modern methods of manufacturing the material and making it up into garments have placed these popular garments within reach of all and this season Spencer values are better than ever.

A REALLY GOOD LINE comes in a pink flannelette and is to be had in sizes for girls from 6 to 10 years old. They are made with a square yoke and are comparatively plain but very good. Per garment, only 50c

ANOTHER FINE VALUE comes in all sizes for girls from 6 to 10 years old. These garments are made of a good white flannelette, have a square yoke and are neatly finished with frills and embroidery. Per garment, only 75c

Just Arrived—A Line of Silk Coat Sweaters

THAT WILL APPEAL TO WOMEN OF GOOD TASTE

THEY are a little more expensive than the high grade worsted sweaters but they are well worth the extra expense. They are so handsome and possess all those little finishing touches that go to make a garment pleasing and distinctive.

We are so confident that this line will please many of the women of Victoria that we have purchased a rather heavier stock of these garments than usual, but anticipate that their excellent qualities will readily find customers.

They have neat collars, turn-back cuffs, have a plain band down the front, fasten with large crocheted buttons and have a double breasted effect. Colors pearl and ivory and all sizes to be had.

PRICES $17.50 AND $25.00

Men's Overcoats, Styles That Are Smart and Full of Comfort Are Here

SEVERE weather has no terrors for the man who is wrapped in an appropriate coat; he is warm, dry and comfortable, while his brothers who are less fortunate than himself are decidedly uncomfortable.

The choice of a coat is a matter that requires a little consideration, but from the huge showing that is to be seen in the Spencer store at the present time, men will find just the style of coat they like the best, and will secure it at a price that will mean a substantial saving.

Tweeds, cravenettes, meltons, chevots, Mackintoshes and silk and rubber mixtures are the materials in which these coats are to be had and the range of colors as wide as you can wish them to be. As to the styles, they are the newest and best that have appeared this season and include the three-quarter length, full length and extra long styles.

Military, two-way and ordinary roll collars with neatly shaped lapels are to be had and there is a size that will fit you. The fact is that we have coats that will fit men who are small or tall, broad or slight.

They are all well tailored and trimmed and represent a value that cannot be bettered at the prices or even at prices that are much higher. Prices from $7.50 up to $22.50.

SEE OUR SPECIAL LINE IN ENGLISH CRAVENETTES AT $15.00

Smart, Strong and Inexpensive Suits for Boys

AND HERE'S A FINE ASSORTMENT TO CHOOSE FROM

SUITS that reach up to a very high standard of quality and have an appearance and a finish that is rarely seen in garments that sell at such low prices.

They are ideal suits for school boys. Being made of high grade tweeds they are warm and as tough as a boy's suit can be. The colors are browns, greys, greens and smart Bannockburn mixtures and we have a full range of sizes.

All are made in the double breasted style and we have no hesitation in saying that they set a new and high standard for quality in boys' clothing. We invite your inspection.

PRICES FROM $3.75 TO $4.50

Coats and Pelisses

THAT WILL GREATLY ADD TO THE COMFORT OF YOUR CHILD

BEARSKIN, beavers, elderson cloths and artras are the materials in which these well made and beautifully designed garments are to be had and the colors are white, brown, fawn, dark greys and black.

They are all well lined and while they have been designed for warmth and comfort, they are in dainty styles that will please most women who delight in seeing their little pets well dressed.

The trimmings are chiefly neat cords, frogs, fancy buttons, belts and girdles of cord finished with tassels.

PELISES range in price from $1.75 up to $6.75. COATS start as low as $2 and range up to $6.75. Various sizes are to be had and all are excellent values.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Times, October 1st, 1887.

One of our morning contemporaries has slightly mixed the yacht race and the provincial fair. Under the heading "The Volunteer an Easy Winner," Mr. D. W. Higgins is reported as president of the agricultural society. Surely Mr. Higgins did not volunteer to accept the position. That gentleman should have been reported as "condescending to accept."

Collections at the port of Victoria for September were $52,274.

Mr. Justice Gray and Mrs. Gray returned from the mainland last night.

Mr. Dennis Driscoll has been informed that his services as district jailer are no longer required. Mr. Driscoll is an old and respected resident and deserved better treatment from the provincial government.

FOR CAMOSUN.

Was Inspected by Governor-General Yesterday.—Expression of Appreciation.

The Devonian Society was rewarded yesterday for the patriotic work in transforming the burnt area at the corner of Fort and Government streets by a visit from the Governor-General, who expressed his appreciation of the work that had been accomplished. Accompanied by Captain Butler, A. D. C., Col. Lowther, military secretary, and Captain Long, A. D. C., H. R. H. the Duke was introduced to the members of the committee, and to the ladies present, and was then escorted to a marquee specially erected for the occasion. Mr. Dart, the president, then read an address of welcome.

Mr. Dart also asked His Highness to accept a whole-plate photograph of the memorial erected to Sir Redvers Buller. This was graciously accepted by the Governor-General with a few brief words of thanks.

An interesting feature of the ceremony was the presence of two Devonian ladies who were on their way home from India after a prolonged tour. In consequence of the expense involved in giving "Fort Camosun" its excellent appearance, the society now finds itself somewhat over three hundred dollars in debt, but they are confident that the assistance of friends will not be withheld, and that the amount would soon be covered. It is suggested to create some sort of a permanent decoration out of the existing material, and somewhat on the same style.

HUNTING LICENSES.

How Misunderstanding of System Has Arisen.—Miner's License Privileges.

Some changes which have been made in the operation of the provincial game laws this year seem to have aroused much misplaced indignation. It is still true that prospectors in unorganized districts may kill game out of season, if it is necessary for them to do so in order to sustain life.

What has happened, however, is that a number of districts are now organized which were formerly unorganized, such as Esquimalt, Slocan, Similkameen and elsewhere. These districts are easy of access and it was found that some persons were taking out miners' licenses and then shooting in these districts without paying anything further for the privilege. While these were unorganized districts they were able to do this legally, and it was found that a considerable number even from over the border had discovered this method of securing hunting privileges cheaply. By declaring the districts organized, this practice has been put a stop to. No hardship has been inflicted on the prospector, because there is no organized district in the province where a prospector is so far from supplies that he is compelled to live by his rifle. He can always reach a settlement and obtain food necessities if he has the money.

Women's Educational Club.—A meeting of the Women's Educational Club of Columbian College, will be held to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. O. Dunford, 114 Government street. A full attendance is expected.

WILL NOT EXHIBIT AGAIN.

Province Will Prefer Chicago For Publicity Work This Year Instead of New York.

Despite some expressions of opinion which the Minister of Agriculture has received personally and by letter, the province will adhere to the decision not to be a competitor this year for the Stillwell trophy, the New York agricultural show. British Columbia was the winner of the trophy last year, and intends to rest on its laurels so far as that is concerned.

"But you must not run away with the idea that we are doing nothing in the exhibition line," says Hon. Price Ellison. "Quite the contrary is the case. We are not exhibiting at New York where we could get space free, but we are going to put on a big exhibit at Chicago in November, where we have to pay for the space. We think an exhibit at Chicago will do us more good than one in New York because it is so much nearer to us and will be seen by the kind of people we want to interest. We are going to spend a considerable sum on it and make the display perhaps the finest that was ever sent out by British Columbia. Also the department has now in hand the preparation of an exhibit for the dry farming congress at Lethbridge, so you can see that we are certainly not neglecting exhibition work."

PORTLAND CANAL CLAIMS.

George E. Winkler Reports Situation Around Salmon River Country.

George E. Winkler, of this city, secretary-treasurer of the Cascade Falls Mining Company, which operates extensively in the Portland Canal field, has just returned from a fortnight's visit to the Salmon River country, in which his company is substantially interested. Mr. Winkler visited most of the better known properties on Cascade creek and is confident that a portion of the district is to be a great mineral producer. In addition to examining the remarkable surface showing in the greenstone schists, such as are typified by the Big Missouri, Hercules, Salmon-Bear River, Cascade Falls and Indian properties, he also spent considerable time visiting claims in the high grade belt in the vicinity of Long and Silver lakes and is strongly of the opinion that much more will be heard of that section in the future.

While the ore bodies are small and less likely to appeal to big capital than those enumerated above, they appear to be either fissure veins in the porphyries that have invaded the old sedimentaries, or occur in contact with the more recent intrusives. They have the advantage of being well defined and comparatively easy to follow.

Both native silver and gold specimens were taken from different properties by him, which in most countries would create much interest. He thinks that with the completion of the excellent trail the government is now constructing up the Salmon, great activity is certain to result, if not this season, then early next.

Mr. Winkler was greatly interested in the geological conditions obtaining up the Salmon. The granite porphyries, he thinks, are off-shoots from the great coast range granite batholith and are responsible for most of the mineralization. The mineralizing solutions have followed lines of weakness in the old schists forming great replacement dykes. Since the formation of the vein systems no great disturbance appears to have taken place. In common with most visitors to the Salmon he thinks the camp will yet rival the Slocan as a silver-lead producer.

"BILLY" AT THE PRINCESS.

Amusing Comedy Provokes Applause.—A Set of False Teeth.

The play at the Princess theatre last evening was "Billy," and those who saw it and there was a large audience present, did not wonder that it ran a whole year in New York, for it is the funniest, most up-to-date comedy possible, as was testified by the laughs and applause which it received. The theme is a most uncommon one. Who ever before heard of a play written around a set of false teeth, the clippings, situations, all depending upon these artificial aids. Poor Billy's sorrow when he first loses his natural ones, is not to be compared to his anger and embarrassment when he finds that the false ones are also gone; and the author's conception of how a proud young fellow would act and feel under such circumstances is truly wonderful.

Mr. Van Dyke, in the title role of "Billy," was warmly welcomed by his many friends of last season. His efforts to talk without disclosing the loss of his teeth were greeted with screams of laughter, as were also the scenes with his sweetheart's mother, whose teeth in a fit of madness he has appropriated. Miss Josephine Rice showed herself an excellent character woman; she made the part very funny and it is evident that she will prove a big success with the company; Miss Mildred Page was as usual very much at home in the part of "Billy's Sweetheart," and looked charming, and William Heaton scored as the "German Stevedore." The conversion of the Princess

Let Your Boy or Girls' Education Be Complete

"Are you going to the opera to-night, Brown?" says Smith. "Why, no, I wouldn't go across the street to hear an opera," Brown replies. "You are a peculiar chap, Brown. Why I am paying $5 to get into the theatre to-night, and would pay twice that amount if I had to," rejoins Smith.

Brown isn't a "peculiar chap" at all; he simply never had a musical education, while Smith had.

You are depriving your child of much future pleasure and enjoyment if you deny him a musical education. Music should be included in his studies, just the same as arithmetic or spelling.

The piano is the standard agent to employ in teaching the boy or girl their music. However, don't think that any piano is good enough for the child to learn on. Bad tone in a piano gives the beginner a wrong conception of tone quality, and will be the means of ruining the musical ear.

The piano you will buy in the end is the

NORTHWESTERN CLUBS ARE AFTER HIGHER RATING

Fliedler Jones Will Represent League Before National Convention—Coast League Will Not Object—Seattle Awarded Pennant

Portland, Oct. 1.—That the Northwestern League is to make a bitter fight for class "A" rating—the same as held by the Western and Southern Leagues—was evidenced by a marathon discussion of plans by class "B" directors in annual fall session last night at the offices of President Fliedler A. Jones.

President Jones was delegated to attend the Minor Leagues National Convention in Milwaukee, November 12, as representative with voting power, but all the magnates present will be there to add in the fight.

"There are just two class 'A' leagues left, and the Northwestern has a larger population per city than either the Western or the Southern," said Jones. "Both are eight-club leagues, but our six-team circuit averages close to 150,000 per city."

W. W. McCredie declared that the Coast League would likely not oppose the move.

Although the annual meeting and the election of a president is not scheduled until December 21, it is believed Fliedler Jones will be re-elected.

Seattle was formally awarded the Northwestern pennant for 1912 as a minor detail.

League directors were: D. E. Dugdale, Seattle; Joseph Cohn, Spokane; Robert P. Brown, Vancouver; L. A. Wattelet, Victoria; Ed. Watkins, Tacoma; and W. W. McCredie, Portland.

MYERS THE CLASS OF NORTHWESTERN

Spokane First Sacker—Versatile Ball Player—Goes to Boston Braves

Ralph "Hap" Myers, Spokane's first baseman, may easily be handed the palm for the Northwestern League's most valuable all-round player. If a motor car was given in this league for the best all-round man and most valuable player on any club "Hap" would win in a walk. He is a wonder. Besides being a grand fielder he is a marvel in base running, and during the past week here set up a new minor league record for base running. His mark will take some beating.

Myers is also batting around the .320 mark, and is high amongst the first basemen in the fielding averages. But, ignoring the figures, his sensational play has been such that many a half-dollar has trickled into the box office from men who just come to see Hap play, not caring much which team won.

Myers is only 25 years old. He stands six feet one inch tall, and weighs about 175. He was sold to the Boston Nationals in midsummer, and if his one weakness, a bad throwing arm, is not too apparent next spring he is sure to make good, for the major leagues have no base runners to-day that have anything on him, and mightily few better natural batsmen.

His home is in San Diego, Cal., and in the off-season he is employed by the gas company.

Mrs. "Hap" is some sportswoman herself. Not only a baseball enthusiast, she is an expert scorer, a fine saddle woman, can drive a motor car, and is a great fancier of blooded dogs.

M'GRAW COUNTS ON RUBE FOR SERIES

Expects Twirler to Be of Use Against Red Sox—Chance to Play in Chicago Games

New York, Oct. 1.—The well-informed among New York fans are counting on Marquand as a possible heavy factor in the pitching department of the Giants for the world's series with Boston. It is declared that Manager McGraw has purposely rested Marquand so that he would be at his best for the world's series. Marquand was clearly overworked in his attempt to beat the record for straight victories. McGraw prophesies with every show of confidence that Marquand can and will duplicate his phenomenal pitching of last spring.

HOCKEY BOILING OVER IN THE EAST

TWO NEW LEAGUES HAVE MADE THEIR APPEARANCE

Looks Like a Big Season for the Players—N. H. A. Has Invaded the States

Just how hockey matters are stirring in the east may be judged from the following dispatch from Toronto:

The professional hockey pot is boiling over in Toronto at present. In the N. H. A. two franchises are held in Toronto, one by the Toronto and the other by the Tecumsehs. While the Toronto have already secured several players, the Tecumsehs have as yet done nothing towards getting a team. Eddie McCafferty, who was one of the organizers of the National Hockey Association, and who is now in charge of the rink at Syracuse, arrived in town on Saturday to try and get a Toronto team in a proposed international league. Mr. Bellingham, who is supposed to own the Tecumseh franchise in the N. H. A., told the Times representative this morning that the International League was formed on Saturday evening, with two teams in Toronto, one in Hamilton, Syracuse, Detroit and Cleveland, and that this league will be affiliated with the N. H. A., and will be known as a western district. They will meet in Syracuse again on Saturday, September 28, to draw up a schedule.

Another League.

This morning delegates arrived in Toronto from the Nationals and Ottawas, and a syndicate of Montreal men, with the object of forming a league composed of two teams in Montreal, one in Ottawa, and the Tecumsehs of Toronto, to play the old style of seven men hockey. The Ottawa team is backed by the Ottawa street railway, and James Strachan and Riley Hearn are at the head of the Montreal end, while the Nationals will be the French team, with officials of the National Lacrosse Club at their head. The Tecumsehs appear to be the stumbling block in the new league, as the officials of the lacrosse club seem to think that so many leagues will only increase the price of hockey players, and make it another bloomer like the "Big Four" Lacrosse League.

Later, Patrick left last night for Vancouver and it is probable that Frank Patrick will leave for the east to-night.

WOOD STILL HAS BIG LEAGUE RECORD

Joe Wood is still holder of a pitching record. He fell down before the Tigers in his struggle to top Walter Johnson's American league record for consecutive victories, but Wood is still at the head of major league pitchers in hurling averages.

Wood's defeat Friday was his fifth this season. He has 32 victories to his credit. That gives him an average of .865. Until this year Bill Donovan's record of 25 won and four lost, established in 1907, was the record pitching average of the major leagues in modern times. Wood is still three points ahead of Donovan's mark. Bill's record was .862.

AMERICAN LEAGUE PENNANT WINNERS.

Following is the table of winners of the American League pennants since the formation of the organization:

BEAVERS VICTORIOUS OVER PORTLAND COLTS

Portland, Ore., Oct. 1.—Although the Portland Beavers won an exhibition game from the Portland Colts by a score of 6 to 1 yesterday, the attempt to settle the relative merits of Portland's Pacific Coast and Northwestern League teams was not a huge success. Neither team played up to par. In fact, loose fielding, especially by the Colts, resulted in important additions to the Beavers' scores.

Neither team played up to par. In fact, loose fielding, especially by the Colts, resulted in important additions to the Beavers' scores.

GUNBOAT SMITH SCORES A KNOCK-OUT

New York, Oct. 1.—Gunboat Smith, of California, knocked out Jim Savage, of Orange, N. J., in the third round last night of a scheduled ten-round bout at Madison Square Garden. The knockout blow was a right uppercut on the jaw, under the ear. The Californian weighed in at 175, while the local man was nine pounds heavier.

Johnny Dundee fought a fast, clever clean draw bout, with Harry Thomas, the English featherweight, and Joe Thomas, of New Orleans, outpointed Jimmy Coffey, of New York, in another fast bout.

CHANCE WILL PLAY.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—Twenty-six Cubs and twenty-four White Sox players will be eligible to participate in the post series for the city championship. The club lists include the name of Manager Frank Chance, whom President Murphy announced a few days ago had "retired." Manager Chance last night declared that he considered a victory over the White Sox of more importance than finishing in second place in his own league.

SEASON OPENS.

A large exodus of hunters marked the opening of the pheasant and quail season this morning, and for the next three months, the "pump" gun artists will be extremely busy on the island. Reports indicate that Saanich and Duncan are to be favorite spots this year.

OPENING OF THE EASTERN SEASON

Initial Rugby exhibition games were played throughout the East on Saturday. The feature event was the annual game at Toronto between the Varsity Old Boys and the present university team, the former winning by the narrow margin of one point. The scores follow:
Toronto Varsity Old Boys, 30; Varsity, 29.
Hamilton Tigers, 18; University of Ottawa, 7.
Regina, 8; Moosejaw, 3 (W. R. F. U.).
Moosejaw, 10; Saskatoon, 6.

LALLY SAYS COLTS COULD BEAT TORONTOS

Joe Lally has the following to say: "Coming to the question of relative ability, you have heard a lot about the D. L. 'C' because it has had considerable newspaper backing. I saw a game in Toronto a week ago between the Toronto and the Nationals, and I am absolutely certain that our team can play the Toronto home and home games and we could beat them. There are not particular stars on our team, their names do not stand out prominently from the others, but the same twelve men played 18 games through this season without one change."

AUSTRALIANS ENROUTE.

Crack Cricket Eleven on Way to the Coast.

New York, Oct. 1.—A two days' international cricket match between the visiting Australian eleven and the gentlemen of New York, began to-day at the Staten Island Cricket Club grounds. Sir George Reid, Lord High Commissioner of Australia, will bowl the first ball. The Australians will return to Philadelphia on October 4 for a four days' match and thence will go to Bermuda for a game with the All-Port, one in Hamilton, Syracuse, Detroit and Cleveland, and that this league will be affiliated with the N. H. A., and will be known as a western district. They will meet in Syracuse again on Saturday, September 28, to draw up a schedule.

DEL HOWARD THE LEADING SLUGGER

San Francisco, Oct. 1.—Del Howard, San Francisco first baseman, continues to lead the Coast League batters, and increased his figures last week two points to 365. Daley and Heltmiller, of Los Angeles, both of whom have played in nearly twice as many games as Howard are close behind him. Sixteen players are batting .200 or better.

Howard's batting is still way out in front in the runs scored column with 141, but Lord, the greedy Oakland second baseman surpassed him in stealing bases, the figures being 61 and 58.

FAST TIME STOPPED BY RAIN ON TRACK

PRINCE OF BOHEMIA RETURNS
$44.80 AND CHAS. GREEN $25
—Mutuels Total $33,249

Resuming its meeting yesterday afternoon after laying off a week for the Agricultural Association, the Victoria Country Club raced on a track that had suffered from rain overnight but was not regarded as other than a good track. The opinions, however, were discounted towards the end of the day in the seven furlongs and mile races, where the winners' times were 3:35 and 4:25 slow. Five previous races may have cut the track up by the rains giving more depth to the loose top, and been the cause of Matador and Critic running to such a slow finish as 1:46 and being beaten by the light weighted Prince of Bohemia.

There was dissatisfaction in the grandstand over the result of the mile, as many thought Matador and Critic passed the half-mile stand in the opposite position to that stated. There was a protest made from the stand by those who held tickets, and some who did not hold tickets added their voices. There were even some who had tickets on Matador to place who said that Matador ran third and Critic second. There were others, and some who did not have tickets on any horse, who declared that Matador came with a final rush in the last strides and pushed between the Prince and Critic at the wire. The judges had given their verdict, and there were three of them, so the race was paid as posted. It was the first disputed finish of this year's racing.

The Prince of Bohemia ran the mile in 1:46 and paid $44.80 for dividend. Overlooking Charles Green in the previous race cost many money, as the horse was easily the best in the heavy going and paid $25. Delcassay got the early foot and beat her field to the turn, paying $34.40, and beyond there, the dividends were a little better than even money.

Cloudy weather and probable rain kept the attendance down, but did not interfere with the betting, which resulted in the best Monday's play of the meeting. The seven race card accounted for $32,349, the highest being $6,360 for the Charles Green race.

Time was all to pieces, Motto's Pride, being 2:35 slow for the five-furlong. Green 3:35, and Bohemia 4:25 slow. The fastest race of the day was Elmetta Hamilton's 1:15 3-5 for six furlongs.

Front running horses had all the advantage, those who could catch the rail early and stay there winning in each race. Motto's Pride, Falm Mac Allister, Delcassay, Wastella, Hamilton and Green, all secured rail position before the first turn, and hanging close compelled the others to take the wide and sticky berth. Annie Wells had very hard work to keep her feet on the first turn, and perhaps because of slipping, Cuvina was jumped on when half a mile out in the seven-furlong race. Twickenham lost all chance of beating Delcassay when she jumped in the air at the break and turned sideways. Although Twickenham made a quick break thereafter, Delcassay had the front speed and Twickenham was shut back in the race for the turn.

LITTLE BITS OF SPORT GOSSIP

McGill Rugby authorities state that if their team win the championship of the Intercollegiate Rugby Union, they will not play for the Earl Grey trophy, emblematic of the Canadian championship. Loss of time in study by the students is given as the chief reason for their objection to the Rugby finals.

The Pacific Coast Cricket Association will select its team to play the Australian eleven on Thursday evening of this week.

Representatives of the new professional hockey league in the east have put up bonds of $2,500 each to go through the season. The league embraces the Tecumsehs, Nationals, Ottawas and Montreal.

Local boxing enthusiasts are eager for the J. B. A. bouts which are to be held next Monday evening at the Victoria theatre. The management deserves praise for the splendid card that they have secured.

Dutch Ginter, the St. Michael's College Rugby star, who was slated to attend Ottawa College, has turned out with the Toronto Varsity squad and will likely be seen on the half line of the Dominion champions.

The players believe that there is bound to be a clash in the east as well in the west, and are naturally opposed to the proposed amalgamation of all the professional hockey leagues into the National Association. This would regulate salaries and make "wars" a thing of the past as has been done in organized baseball across the line.

Sault Ste. Marie is still fighting for recognition in some eastern hockey league. If they could move their town about 400 miles, they might be considered eligible for the N. H. A.

Roughly speaking, it will cost the Toronto ball club $100,000 to finance the team that won the pennant this year, divided as follows: Salaries (players),

TO REWARD HEROISM OF SIDNEY INDIANS

Medals or Watches for Five
Natives Who Saved Lives in Iroquois Disaster

It is understood that some reward is to be given the five Indians who assisted in saving life at the time of the Iroquois disaster off Sidney. Plans are under way for presenting either medals or watches to the natives as a reward for their heroic service. If the plan materializes a public meeting will more than likely be held, and the Indians handed their small tokens of reward by one of the prominent officials of British Columbia. It was hoped that the presentation could have been made by the Duke of Connaught, but the details could not be completed in time. It will be remembered that on April 10, 1911, the steamer Iroquois foundered a short distance off Sidney. Although only a short distance from the shore the passengers were in danger of drowning owing to the poor life-saving facilities with which the Iroquois was equipped. Having witnessed the disaster from the reservation and seeing the plight of the passengers, the five Indians, two of whom were klutchnen, put off in their canoes and rescued a number of those floundering about in the water. Considerable time has elapsed since the heroic work was done by the Indians, but the matter has been under the consideration of the officials of the marine department at Ottawa for several months. Announcements as to the date of the presentation will be made in the near future.

FISHING BOATS RELEASED.

Port Townsend, Wash., Oct. 1.—Under orders from the department, Collector Harper released the four British Columbia fishing boats seized six weeks ago by the revenue cutter Arcata, off Point Roberts, for fishing in American waters. Immediately after the seizure the boats were turned over to the customs authorities at Bellingham. The matter was reported to the department by Collector Harper, and after six weeks delay it ordered their release, as there is no law or treaty which prevents British Columbia boats from fishing in American waters. Before their release the owners waived all claims for damages and agreed to pay the costs incurred in keeping the boats.

FOUR-INCH SKIN FOR SHIPS LIKE TITANIC

Inch Plating is Only Strong Enough to Withstand Wave
Impact—Too Costly

London, Oct. 1.—Summing up and commenting on the evidence, official and otherwise, that has accumulated as to the cause of the Titanic disaster last spring, Sir Bradford Leslie, bridge builder and steel expert, declares that no ship of the size and weight of the Titanic is safe at any speed above fifteen knots without a skin of armor plate steel at least four inches thick. And he remarked that the cost of a steel skin even three or two inches thick would be practically prohibitive. The one-inch skin plating of the Titanic, he says, was strong enough to sustain only the maximum strain due to wave impact, undulation and hydraulic pressure, and was inadequate to stand penetration, rending or buckling in case of collision with icebergs, derelicts or other vessels.

Thicker Skin Only Safeguard.
"It may be contended," says Sir Bradford, "that, though the skin has not been increased in thickness proportionately to tonnage, it has been speedily reduced by corresponding increase in the frames. Such stiffening cannot be considered. Cellular construction, as adopted by Brunel, would improve matters, but increased thickness of skin plating in proportion to speed and tonnage combined is the only true safeguard."
"The fact that the iceberg made such a fatal gash in the side of the Titanic, and that the shock was scarcely felt by many not at all in the most significant fact brought out in the inquiry, and should be clearly appreciated."
"The danger lies in the mass of the ship. Subdivision by bulkheads will not prevent a 50,000-ton ship with one-inch skin plating being cut in two. This fact, that increased tonnage and speed without corresponding increase of shell strength increases the vulnerability of a ship in collision, was not brought out at the inquiry. It is perhaps the most important part of the lesson of the catastrophe that should be known and understood, conflicting, as it does, with the preconceived idea of the unsinkability of these large ships."

What Might Have Happened.
Sir Bradford calculates that if the Titanic had hit the iceberg head-on at a speed of twenty-one knots an hour, with 100 feet of crumpling, the ship would have stopped in three seconds and probably would have rebounded; her coal and cargo would have been violently shifted, and the casualties from the mere crushing and its consequences would have been deplorable. The ship would have tilted down at the bow, and in all probability she would have sunk comparatively quickly after having stood straight up on end.
He says he thinks the Titanic might have been turned from the iceberg and saved if the port engines had been stopped and reversed, the effect being to spin the ship in a circle. Bilge keels, too, he concludes, would have been a wonderfully good thing for the Titanic, because they would have been something external, to be crumpled and broken before the skin was damaged, and obviously might have limited the extent of the damage and prolonged the time the vessel would have remained afloat.

NEWINGTON BACK IN PORT.

Returns From West Coast Cruise—
Four Fishing Boats Sighted.
The steamer Newington, Captain Barnes, with Fishery Inspector J. H. Ladwell aboard, returned to port yesterday afternoon from another cruise to the west coast. Four fishing boats were sighted, and they were all under weigh proceeding to the fishing banks. The Newington went up by the inside passage and took coal at Squagway and came south via the west coast. Good weather was experienced up till last Sunday, when a heavy gale sprang up.

The C. P. R. steamer Princess Ena, Capt. Sainty, was reported to arrive at Union Bay yesterday from Skagway to load bunker coal.

LIVE FOXES BROUGHT FROM YUKON ON MAY

Five Crates of Black Species
Going to Montreal—All Kinds of Weather

Five crates of live black foxes, in transit from the Yukon to Montreal, were brought south from Skagway by the C. P. R. steamer Princess May, Capt. McLeod, which arrived in port early this morning. The black fox is a scarce animal, and as its fur is of a very fine quality, it is therefore of great value.
Capt. McLeod reports peculiar weather on the round trip to Skagway. As far north as Prince Rupert the weather was fine, and from then on to the Lynn canal port considerable rain was experienced. On the way south foggy weather prevailed, and yesterday and last night strong blows were met. Crossing the Gulf last night the wind blew fairly strong from the southwest, and a nasty sea was stirred up. As Capt. McLeod remarked, "We had a little bit of everything, and not an awful lot of anything."

The May brought a passenger list of 35 south to Vancouver and Victoria. Among those who made the passage on the May was President Dickson, of the White Pass railway, who is going through to the east on a holiday. He was accompanied south by Mrs. Dickson. The May did not have very many passengers from the interior this trip, as she did not connect with the river steamers.
This morning the Princess May went across to Vancouver, relieving the Princess Royal. She will sail for the north on Friday night.

TWO OFFICIALS ARE RETIRED

J. C. Kinghorn, inspector of hulls, and H. C. Killeen, district engineer of the marine and fisheries department, Victoria, have been relieved by the Dominion government of their respective positions, and accordingly retired to-day.

FIRST HEAVY GALE OF SEASON BLOWS

Nasty Seas Stirred Up in Straits and Gulf by Southeaster

Vessels plying in the coastwise trade yesterday and last night were encountering the first gale of the fall and winter. A stiff southeaster wind late in the afternoon developed into quite a gale off the Cape, which at 6 o'clock ranged from 44 to 50 miles an hour. The United States weather bureau has issued its first storm warning for the Washington coast. The storm centre was over Vancouver Island and moving east, causing high southeast winds.
The wind was blowing very strongly off this port yesterday, and to-day there is quite a breeze. In the Gulf the gale rose high last night, and early this morning it shifted from the southeast to the southwest. The wind has stirred up a nasty sea in the Straits, Gulf and Sound, and although the steamers coming across have pitched considerably, none suffered any delay.
The winter season is fast approaching and heavy gales will soon be the story told by the masters of all coasting and foreign-going boats. The weather on the Pacific is getting bad, and several vessels have reported tempestuous passages.

'FRISCO'S MARINE NEWS.

One Steamer and Two Barques Are Chartered—Arcata Sold by Marshall.
San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 1.—The British steamer Frank Dale has been chartered by Balfour, Guthrie & Co. for lumber from the Columbia River to Sydney or Newcastle. She is now due at Valparaiso and will come north in ballast.
The barque Iverna has been chartered by M. H. Houser for wheat from Portland to the United Kingdom at 41s. 3d. for January loading, or 40s. for February loading. She is at Montevideo, and will come around the Horn in ballast.
The French barque Ernest Legouve, which arrived here on Sunday from Antwerp, is under charter to G. W. McNear to load barley here for the United Kingdom at 35s. She was taken some time ago, the rate at the present time being over 40s.
The steamer Arcata, laid up at this port, was sold at Marshall's sale on Saturday to O. G. Olsen, of Olsen & Mahoney, for $3,500. The company will repair her and use her in the coast trade.
The Pacific Mail liner Korea arrived from the Orient yesterday. While jacking the lost anchor and thirty-five fathoms of cable.

The barque Paramita arrived from Bristol Bay with 33,000 cases of salmon. She reports having run into a gale on September 1, losing a number of sails. The barque McLaurin, which came out at the same time, has not yet been reported.

REPORT FROM LINE.

2,670 MILES AT SEA

EMPRESS' MESSAGE IS SENT THROUGH UNALGA

The India is Not Expected Un- til Saturday—Chicago Spoken

At a distance of 2,670 miles from Victoria the R. M. S. Empress of Japan, Capt. Robinson, has reported by wireless. On Sunday night the White Liner communicated with the American station at Unalga, Alaska, and the message was relayed to Cape Blanco, which in turn sent it to the operator at Gonzales Hill. At this time the Empress was east of the meridian, and it is very seldom that an Oriental liner is heard from in that position.
It is not expected that the Empress will arrive here before Saturday afternoon, as with that distance to cover she has seven days of hard steaming. She is bringing from the Orient a cargo of 3,000 tons, and included in it is a $1,000,000 shipment of silk for New York. She has a large list of saloon passengers and several hundred Orientals in the steerage.

Again last night the steamship Chicago Maru, Capt. Goto, of the Osaka Shosen fleet, was spoken by wireless, but her master did not report his position. According to messages received the previous night she should be here to-morrow afternoon. Nothing has yet been received from the Blue Funnel liner Proteus, Capt. Mitchell, but the agents here expect her to arrive on Thursday morning. She is several days behind her schedule, having been delayed in England by the dockers' strike.
To-morrow afternoon the Blue Funnel liner Titan, Capt. Evans, will leave port for the United Kingdom, via the Far East. She will come in here early in the morning, but will not set away until later in the day owing to the fact that over 250 Chinese will embark on her. The Titan bunkered at Tacoma, being unable to get coal at Comox as a result of the strike amongst the Vancouver Island miners. She has a full cargo aboard, including everything from nails to an automobile.
Early to-morrow evening the Canadian-Australian liner Zealandia, Capt. Phillips, will leave port for the Antipodes. She will have a full list of passengers, and about 1,500 tons of cargo.

VICTORIA DERBY AT WILLOWS TO-MORROW

Nine Horses Running in Stake
Race May Be Seen by the Ladies as Club Guests

With all probability of nine starters the Victoria Derby will be run to-morrow afternoon at the Willows race track. With the wind blowing to-day the track should be dry and fast again to-morrow, provided there is no rain before the race. The race will be for a stake purse of three year olds, and over a distance of one mile and an eighth. Weights will be declared this afternoon.

Sake, winner of Bagshot Park handicap, is entered, and with him, provided there are no scratchings, will be Scrimmage, Delmas, Whidden, Discontent, Burl, Tommy McGee, Sinn Feinn and Don Enrique.

Jockey engagements announced at the track yesterday for the Derby are: Leads to ride Discontent, McFarty on Sake, Benanson on Delmas, Broadfoot on Burl, A. Martin on Scrimmage, Whidden on Sinn Feinn and Riddle on Whidden.

Riders for McGee and Don Enrique are not yet selected.

All the horses entered have been on the Willows track before. Delmas ran third to Sake on Saturday in the mile handicap, and second to Discontent in the Willows handicap. Scrimmage was fifth in the Willows, sixth in the Victoria handicap and seventh to Sake's mile Saturday. Whidden has won here at a mile and seventy yards, and at one and one-sixteenth miles, his time being 1:31 1/5 for the latter.

Saturday's winner, Sake, was second to Phillisina at a mile and 70 yards, and third to Dr. White at the same distance. Burl has won a mile, and was fourth in the handicap Saturday afternoon. Tommy McGee was fourth in both the Willows and the Victoria handicaps. Sinn Feinn ran fourth in a mile last night and third in a mile and seventy yards previously. Don Enrique will be in on his merit, which is not shown in the form book.

There will be six other races on the card, and ladies are to be admitted as the guests of the club without charge at the gates.

AUSTRALIAN TEAM

Giants of 'Cricket World Will Appear Here This Month

As far as can be ascertained at the present time, it is probable that there will be a team of fifteen out to face the redoubtable Australian team when they play here this month. These will be chosen from clubs all over the province, so that the team will be a representative one, as well as the strongest aggregation that the province can put into the field.

That there will be need of all the strength, both batting, bowling and fielding obtainable, will be apparent to all who have followed in any degree the progress of the great national game in Australia. For many years past the teams that she has sent out, or by means of which she has faced the invaders on her own territory have all attained a high standard of excellence. Never was there a mediocre Australian representative team put in the field yet, and though this season they have not been as successful as they might have been, a good deal of this can be explained by the fact that the wickets in the Old Country this summer have been absolutely execrable through the continued rains, while the Australians have been accustomed to hard, dry and fiery wickets.

The Australians have always been noted for their wonderful fielding, and no man is allowed on the side who cannot catch, pick up and return with dazzling accuracy, no matter what his qualifications as batter or bowler may otherwise be. Victorians will have the privilege of seeing one of the finest and best working fielding-machines in the world in action.

Among the men who will compose the Australian team, five have already been hailed as claimants to the title of the best players in the world in their respective positions.

"Syd" Gregory, the great "little" captain, of the Wallabies, first played in an Australian cricket team twenty-great sportsman, spoke of Gregory as a thorough man and sportsman, both on and off the field, and his remarks will be endorsed by all those who have ever met with the genial little captain, who is at once the pride of his team and country, and the fear of all opposing bowlers.

It is understood that "Syd" will captain the team when they play at the University school grounds next month. At the present time the Australians are in New York. They will play a game at Winnipeg, and also against the game in that section of the country. A number of college players and Eastern stars have located in and around Regina, Edmonton, Calgary and other cities, and the sport is booming.

"Lacrosse is not quite as prosperous as one could wish," said Mr. Willison, but a provincial league last summer was fairly well supported. Hockey is another sport that is attracting attention. Regina boasts of a splendid amateur seven, and looks forward to winning the Allan cup next winter.

THE AUSTRALIAN CRICKET TEAM

Top Row—R. B. Minnett, C. Kelleway, F. R. Mayne, D. Smith, S. H. Emery, C. J. Crouch (Manager).
Middle Row—J. W. MacLaren, W. Carkeek, W. J. Whitty, S. E. Gregory (Captain), W. Bardley, C. G. Macartney and G. R. Hazlett.
Bottom Row—H. Webster, C. B. Jennings (Vice Captain), and T. J. Matthews.

Westminster this morning to witness the first match, and there was not a man but who did not expect the world's champion to retain their present honors. Joe Lally is admitted to have a fair team, but the calibre of his players is far below that of the Coast League or the Big Four. It is hard to see, therefore, how the Colts can hope to win when pitted against the best in the world.

Manager Wells Grey, of the cup holders, states that his team are in the best of condition, and that he will place his strongest twelve on the field. The ball will be faced at 3 p.m., and a large crowd will undoubtedly witness the opening match of the series.

VICTORIA AWARDED THE TITLE MEET

On his return from Vancouver, where he attended the annual meeting of the B. C. A. A. U., Harry Skuce, secretary of the J. B. A. A., announced that the B. C. track and field and boxing championships of 1913 had been awarded to Victoria.

two years ago. From that time to the present he has always been included in the first rank of batsmen in the world, and as a fielder at cover-point he has never yet had an equal, though Hobbs of England is a close second.

Gregory, who is somewhat diminutive in stature, went to England twenty-two years ago as the midge and baby of the Australians; since that time he has played in more test matches than any Australian within living memory, and yet his cricket has not decreased in quality with advancing years, while the result of garnered experience has made his presence on an Australian team an absolute necessity.

He is one of the two men who have scored over two hundred runs in a test match against England, and he has played in more test matches than any cricketer who ever lived. On the occasion of his fiftieth test played in the old country this year, he was presented with a very handsome loving cup, and a purse of $2,000. Among the subscribers were Duke of Devonshire, Lord Alverstone, the Lord Chief Justice of England, Lord Hawke, Lord Harris, the Marylebone Cricket Club, Prince Ranjitsingh, P. F. Warner and every county club in England.

In making the presentation, Sir George Reid, the high commissioner for Australia, and Lord Harris, another

Regina Authority Tells Sporting Progress on

"It is remarkable the interest that the Western sporting enthusiasts are taking in the Canadian style of Rugby," stated W. T. Willison, late sporting editor of the Regina Province, who has been visiting friends in Victoria for the past few days, and who left this afternoon for Vancouver. Mr. Willison is a well-known Eastern Rugby writer, and is thoroughly conversant with the sporting conditions in the middle West. He states that the prairie towns are simply going crazy over the sport and predicts a great future for

SPORT REVIEW.

Montreal Will Stick.

Montreal, contrary to report, will be represented again in the International League next year. The great brace taken by the Royals under Bransfield's management, the last month or so, caused a renewal of the interest in the eastern city, and President Lichtenhein is out with the announcement that he will "stick." Bransfield has consented to remain in charge, and he has promised to produce a winner. The Royals played hustling ball in the last series, and there is little doubt but that they would have been a factor in the race with a better start.

McCaffery Was Foxy.

Some financier as well as some president is James J. McCaffery. Esq. When Fischer was drafted by Brooklyn he got rid of a man he didn't want, protected his team for next season and made $1,500 on the deal.

The young player was purchased from Birmingham last fall for $1,500. Early this season he was sold to the Wilkesbarre club for $2,000 ostensibly, though only $500 was paid down. Clymer did not complete the deal and he reverted to the Toronto club. Brooklyn drafted him and the local club's ex-

HOCKEY WAR PROBABLY TO COST CLUBS THOUSANDS

Formation of Two New Eastern Leagues Means
Fight for Players—Stars for Coast League
—New Blood to Be Introduced

Reports from the East indicate that one of the most expensive hockey wars that the sport has ever known is due. The formation of an International hockey league embracing a couple of United States clubs, also the organization of another major hockey circuit with clubs in Montreal, Toronto and Ottawa are indications of an exceptionally busy season. The steps that are now being taken for the formation of a major hockey league will likely fall flat, and it is just likely that the British Columbia league will be involved in the battle.

Promoters Are Greedy.

While interest in the game will be heated by the fight between the clubs, it is just possible that the promoters are over stepping themselves in their greed to have a finger in the financial hockey pot. The public in the East are every bit as canny as the club owners. Take the average hockey fan in Ottawa and Toronto. He knows when the teams are playing hockey, also when they are stalling. It did not take the fans long to denounce the National Hockey Association for reducing the teams to six men, and their sympathies for that body are limited. The new league that will comprise four clubs in Ottawa, Montreal and Toronto have been guaranteed accommodation at the different arenas. They have announced that they will go along with the seven man teams, and this feature alone will be strong enough to secure the new body support, which the N. H. A. has already lost.

Players For the Coast.

The hockey war means the introduction of a lot of new blood, but with ten new clubs organized, it is hard to see where the teams are going to secure the talent to carry them through. It is all right for the United States clubs to play second raters, but those players will not draw in Canadian cities. The Patrick boys figure on taking a couple of hockey stars from the East, to bolster up the league, and as they are prepared to go higher than any of the Eastern clubs, more trouble is in sight for the older leagues.

chequer was enriched to the extent of $2,500. So that President McCaffery really secured $3,000 for the back-stop, who only cost him half that amount.

St. Kitt's Out to Win.

There is every reason to believe that the St. Catharines lacrosse club will give the Vancouver amateurs a great series for the possession of the Mann cup. The visitors are by far the best amateur twelve in the east and not only do they know the game from the ground up, but their play is every bit as modern as that of the professional clubs. Then again, there is a feeling amongst the St. Catharines players that they were unfairly dealt with in the Mann cup. When the trustees refused to allow them to play against the Vancouver twelve a year ago, the St. Kitt's players stated that they would wait a year and bring the cup back from the west. Their victories in the final games indicate that they have a remarkably fast scoring twelve, and the series ought to bring out the best lacrosse of the year.

C. N. R. Twelve in Boasting Mood.

Now that the C. N. R. lacrosse club has returned from their cup hunting jaunt, the Winnipeg papers are taking particular delight in telling of the wonders that the "Peg" twelve accomplished at the coast. Among other things they boast of their "victory" over the Victoria twelve, and do not fail to give excuses for their loss in the Mann cup series. The Winnipeg writers, unfortunately, do not tell the whole facts concerning the exhibition game in which the Victoria and Winnipeg clubs figured. They might have told of the willingness of the Victoria club to allow the C. N. R. team to win, also the fact that the Victoria club banquipped the C. N. R. players. This latter feat was something that the challengers were not tendered in Vancouver, and goes to show how far Victoria is ahead of Vancouver in sportsmanship. Manager Charlie Burnett, of the Victoria lacrosse club, is already making plans for next season, and there is little doubt but that the Mann cup holders will have to improve their playing if they wish to retain the silverware next season.

HOW GIRLS MAY AVOID PERIODIC PAINS

The Experience of Two Girls Here Related For The Benefit of Others.

Rochester, N. Y.—"I have a daughter 13 years old who has always been very healthy until recently when she complained of dizziness and cramps every month, so bad that I would have to keep her home from school and put her to bed to get relief.

"After giving her only two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound she is now enjoying the best of health. I cannot praise your Compound too highly. I want every good mother to read what your medicine has done for my child."

—Mrs. RICHARD N. DUNHAM, 311 Exchange St., Rochester, N. Y.

Stoutsville, Ohio.—"I suffered from headaches, backache and was very irregular. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and before I had taken the whole of two bottles I found relief. I am only sixteen years old, but I have better health than for two or three years.

I cannot express my thanks for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I had taken other medicines but did not find relief."

—Miss CORA B. FOSNAUGH, Stoutsville, Ohio, R.F.D., No. 1.

Hundreds of such letters from mothers expressing their gratitude for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished for their daughters have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

or answer other people's remarks. They simply cap them with remarks of their own.

For instance, you see a picture of Maude Adams and say that you saw her in "As You Like It." Whereupon it never occurs to this type of person to ask if you enjoyed the play. Instead he volunteers the important information that he never saw that, but that he once saw Julia Marlowe in "Romeo and Juliet."

Some clever conversationalist is telling a very interesting story of an unusual vacation trip. The rest of the company listen with genuine attention. Being intelligent, open-minded people, they like to hear about new places and customs. But the "that reminds me" lady has the far-away look of rapt self-communion until the speaker happens to say the name of some place which is familiar to her. At that she comes back to earth and breaks into the conversation with some inspiring bit of information such as "Did you say Grand Manan? I thought of going there last summer," or "Nantucket, why that's where my sister-in-law spent her vacation two years ago."

Of course, to this type of people other folk's anecdotes are never anything but an introduction to their own. Sometimes they pause long enough to say a word or two of applause before they tell you the infinitely more interesting story they heard. Sometimes they don't risk losing their opportunity by indulging in that courtesy.

Whenever I meet people like this and feel irritated by them, I always raise a moment and remember Bishop Selwyn's definition of a bore, which I think I have previously quoted to you:—"A bore is a person who insists upon talking about himself when you want to talk about yourself."

Of course, there is always a possibility that the person you are putting in the "that reminds me" class has just about the same opinion of you. But there is one sure way to avoid this. And that is to exert yourself to take such a genuine interest in what other people are saying that no one will think of classing you with the "that reminds me" folks.

CIVIC NOTICE

RE MUNICIPAL ELECTION, 1913.

The attention of persons desiring to qualify as "HOUSEHOLDERS" or "HOLDERS OF TRADE LICENSES" or to vote at the Municipal Election to be held on the 2nd Thursday of January, 1913, is drawn to Section 3 of the Municipal Elections Act, which provides that "in the case of the holder of a Trade License, or in the case of a Householder, he, or she, shall during the month of October in each year, make and cause to be delivered to the Clerk of the Municipality, a Statutory Declaration made and subscribed before a Supreme or County Court Judge, Stipendiary or Police Magistrate, Commissioner for taking affidavits in the Supreme Court, Justice of the Peace, or Notary Public, in form, and to the effect of Form 1 in the schedule to the said Act in the case of the holder of a trade license, and of Form 2 in said schedule in the case of a householder."

"HOUSEHOLDER" shall extend to and include any person of the full age of 21 years who occupies a dwelling, tenement, hotel or boarding-house, who has been a resident in the Municipality from the first day of January of the current year, and who shall, unless exempted by the provision of the proviso at the end of sub-section (2) of Section 3 of the Municipal Elections Act, which exempts certain efficient women and persons over the age of 60 from paying road tax, have paid to the Municipality all rates, taxes, assessments, which are not chargeable and, which rates, taxes or assessments so paid shall amount to not less than two dollars, due to the Municipality for the current year, other than water rates or taxes, or license fees for dogs."

Section 3 of the said Act further provides that "No declaration shall be accepted by the Clerk of a City Municipality unless it be delivered within 48 hours after it is made."

Section 4 further provides that "No person who is not a British subject shall have his name placed upon any municipal list of voters."

Forms of declaration may be obtained and the necessary declarations made at the office of the City Assessor, 2nd floor, City Hall, Douglas Street, Victoria.

FOUR THOUSAND CHEER THE DUKE

CORDIAL WELCOME FOR THE ROYAL GUESTS

Children Render Patriotic Songs at Central School Grounds

Enthusiastic though the reception accorded to the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and Princess Patricia have been on previous occasions when they have appeared in public in Victoria, nothing could surpass the ecstasy of the demonstration accorded them this morning at the High School, when four thousand school children, massed in a solid phalanx in the square outside the school buildings, gave three ringing cheers for the distinguished visitors.

At 11:30 the royal visitors arrived at the school, being received at the Fernwood road entrance of the High School grounds by George Jay, chairman of the school board; Mrs. Jenkins, and Superintendent Paul, and were escorted down through the deep ranks of children to the improvised platform. Here they were greeted by Sir Richard McBride and Dr. Young, others on the platform being Lady McBride, Mrs. Young, Mayor and Mrs. Beckwith, Mrs. George Jay, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Riddell, Capt. and Mrs. McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. Stenaland, Mrs. Alexander Robinson, Mrs. J. D. Pemberton and Mrs. Hanington.

Supervisor H. J. Pollard, who occupied a small elevation to the right of the platform, at once gave the signal for the children to sing, and six bars of the National Anthem were enthusiastically rendered by the hundreds of small voices, this selection being followed by three verses of "Rule Britannia," sung with all the lusty ardor of the four thousand young voices.

Next in order His Royal Highness presented his own—the Governor-General's—medals to John Stevenson, who passed at the head of the High School in the 1912 mid-summer examinations; and to Miss Hazel McConnell, of South Park School, who passed first in the High School entrance examination this year.

In addressing the gathering His Royal Highness said that both the province and the city were to be heartily congratulated on the method which they had adopted in the education of the rising generation. He hoped that the parents and children alike would take advantage of the splendid educational advantages at their disposal. To the children he would like to say how delighted he was with their singing—which was particularly to be commended owing to the great number assembled in the grounds. His Royal Highness concluded by wishing the children every possible success and happiness in after life, and hoped that all those who were there at that time would go out to be good citizens of whom their Empire would be proud, and who would be proud of their country, and the flag under which they lived.

After this the children were once more called to attention by the tap of Mr. Pollard's baton, and three verses of "O Canada" were given with great zeal, all the small children singing earnestly at the line, "We stand on guard for Thee," as if already conscious of their responsibilities as the future guardians of the Empire. The musical programme concluded with "God Save the King" and "Rule Britannia," the quadrangle ringing a moment after with the shrill cheers for "The King" called by Mr. Pollard. The Duke, the Duchess, and the Princess, were accompanied by the tossing of caps and great enthusiasm among the back ranks, a final "tiger" seeming to hold all the pent-up energy of the healthy multitude of boys and girls, the Royal visitors departing a few moments later. At His Royal Highness's special request, Conductor Pollard was presented, and complimented on the splendid work he had accomplished in the training of the children.

During the proceedings the Duchess was presented with a beautifully arranged basket of larkspurs and maiden-hair-fern handed to her by three little girls, the Misses Victoria Gardner, Ruth Copeland, and Doris Nunn; the Princess receiving a basket of fragrant pink roses and maidenhair-fern from the hands of little Jack Aldridge, who was accompanied by Harold M. Duncan and Robert M. Petrie.

The schools which took part in this splendid vocal exhibition were the High school, the two Central schools, George Jay school, South Park, Spring Ridge, Fernwood, North Ward, Hillside, Rock Bay, Victoria West, Sir James Douglas, Bank street, Kingston street, Lampton street, Esquimalt, and Oak Bay.

After the departure of the royal visitors, Mr. Pollard, through his megaphone, imparted the news that the children would have a half-holiday, the information being received with wild cheering and more cap-throwing and other exhibitions of joy, the children being marshalled off the grounds by the teachers in charge of the various detachments.

Previous to his arrival on the platform His Royal Highness inspected the High School Cadets, who were drawn up at the Fort street entrance to the school as an escort for the royal party, at the conclusion of which the Duke personally complimented Major Dowler, the officer in charge, on the trim and neat appearance of the boys.

In accordance with the kind offer of His Royal Highness to receive the members of the recently formed Canadian Club of Seattle, with their friends, a party numbering 385 arrived on the Princess Victoria this afternoon from Puget Sound.

The Princess Charlotte will be held for two hours to enable the party to meet Their Royal Highnesses, and to see something of the attractions of Victoria.

This afternoon Their Royal Highnesses received the guests at the garden party at Government House, which was largely attended. To-morrow the Duke will attend a hunting party with Lieut. Governor Paterson, and on the following day will leave for the exhibition at New Westminster. The Duchess and Princess Patricia will devote to-morrow to fishing or motoring.

LOCAL NEWS

New Paper on Streets.—"The Spokesmen," a new publication boasting Victoria, has made its appearance. It is an attractive and well written journal. Sir Richard McBride contributes an article in the first issue.

City Council.—A report on the negotiations over the V. & S. railway is expected to be ready for the city council meeting this evening. It is improbable the sewers committee of inquiry has had an opportunity of meeting yet to consider their finding. Notice of motion has been posted dealing with electrical wiring of houses.

Our Stock is Moving Out.—Ladies don't miss the opportunity to buy your winter supply for yourself and the children at our big closing out sale. Every article has to be sold as we are positively giving up business. Stock is high class, goods we can guarantee. It's the Mrs. J. E. Elliott stock with no additions. You will find us at 1227 Douglas street. Two doors south of Merchant's bank. W. G. McLaren & Company.

The Weather.—A visit to the meteorological office this morning revealed the fact that the storm area responsible for the rain and wind of yesterday had moved considerably inland and was now passing towards the prairie provinces, where inclement weather is expected very shortly. The barometer, after its sudden descent in the previous twenty-four hours, is rising once more fairly steadily, and there are probabilities of continued better weather.

A Marvellous Advance.—The September figures for Oak Bay building show an enormous advance over those of the corresponding month of last year. The total amount for this month has been calculated at $114,459, while last year, the amount reached only $36,950, or little more than a fourth of the amount recorded this month. The figures for the whole year up-to-date form up to the end of September the total reached $339,252, while this year this amount has been easily beaten with a full total of $488,008 or much more than twice the amount recorded in the corresponding period of last year.

Touching Loyalty.—At the inspection of school children which took place this morning at the Central school little Maggie Peterson, one of the tiny Kingston street school pupils, whose loyalty wanted some more concrete satisfaction than a distant glimpse of Her Royal Highness, had brought a bouquet of flowers to present to the Duchess, and was quite heartbroken because she had not the opportunity of handing these to the gracious lady, whom she so ardently admired from her distant position. Little Maggie was somewhat comforted, however, on being given one of the blossoms which Her Royal Highness dropped from her basket in passing.

CONFERENCE AT BOARD OF TRADE

HON. MARTIN BURRELL LISTENS TO OPINIONS

Primises to Do All in His Power to Help the Island

A long conference was held this morning between the council of the Board of Trade and Hon. Martin Burrell, G. H. Barnard, M.P., and F. H. Shepherd, M.P. The last named gentleman had received his invitation to the conference very late, and arrived on the noon train, coming to the meeting in time to hear only the concluding business.

Dr. Tolmie.

The first question taken up by the conference was the experimental farm at Saanich. Dr. Tolmie addressed the minister in this connection, and made very practical suggestions. One of them was that very accurate particulars and facts of fencing, draining and stumping and clearing ground should be kept and information published in suitable bulletins.

He also spoke on the class of cattle which should be kept, and recommended that farmers should be assisted as much as possible in legitimate work rather than the assistance now furnished by work on roads.

Seismological Station.

The question of a seismological station was introduced by W. J. Sutton, and in the course of a few remarks he stated that Victoria was particularly well situated for the observation of movements of the earth's crust. He was not contemplating, he said, the establishment in Victoria of an observatory at a high cost, but for practical work no city could be better than this.

R. C. Moss, chairman of the board's committee on fisheries, spoke on the subject of fisheries protection, adding the statement that the loss last year on the coast of this province alone amounted to five million dollars. The fishery protection vessels now in service were, he declared, quite unsuitable, and the speed of new vessels should be not less than sixteen knots. Tenders have been awarded for two ships, but at least three are required for adequate patrolling in addition to a number of fast motor launches.

Simon Leiser spoke on the need of reforms necessary in the local post office; Messrs. Bullen and Shallock dealt with the shipbuilding question briefly; R. L. Drury called attention to the insufficiency of government aid for the construction of first class drydocks. F. A. Pauline, on behalf of the Board of Trade, expressed the hope that the time for receiving tenders would not be extended beyond the 15th of the month. He also pointed out the necessity, in progress of the appointment of a resident engineer.

C. H. Luginbuhl dwelt at some length on the question of the Seymour Narrows, remarking that the time was ripe and that conditions called for prompt action in the construction of all-rail communication.

R. P. Rither, who was also in attendance, gave his hearty approval to the remarks of the previous speakers and urged the importance of expediting the completion of the harbor works contemplated.

Hon. Mr. Burrell was then called upon and opened his remarks by alluding to the pleasure it gave him to be in Victoria, and at the meeting of the Board of Trade, emphasizing the fact that it was his duty to see that Vancouver Island and equal attention to that of other districts of the Dominion. He stated that the site recently purchased by the government will be occupied by a first class experimental farm. With regard to the representation of the seismological situation he promised to bring the matter before the proper departments. Unfortunately, Hon. Mr. Monk and other of the ministers could not now come out to British Columbia owing to the early meeting of the federal parliament. He promised to do everything possible to strengthen Mr. Barnard's hands, and in his own knowledge energetic efforts were now being made to stop fish poaching. He expressed his opinion that the board had good grounds for complaints in respect to some post office matters. With regard to the assistance for shipbuilding, the suggestion had been made that the importation of material used in their construction should be exempted from duty. This was a large question, and one for the minister of finance to determine upon; until he had more opportunity personally to look into the matter he would not like to express an opinion. He emphatically stated that he was heartily in accordance with the Dominion government in assisting the shipbuilding industry. There was every probability, he remarked, that the act dealing with assistance to be given to shipbuilding would be amended. The time for receiving tenders had been extended, he explained, on the instance of Lord Strathcona, acting on behalf of some British contractors. He expressed himself heartily in sympathy with the development of Vancouver Island, and in his opinion a more thorough and comprehensive survey and estimates of cost of the Seymour Narrows project was necessary than could possibly be prepared in time to submit the same at the next session of parliament.

Mr. Burrell is making special efforts for suitable Canadian representation at the San Francisco Exposition in 1915. Mr. Barnard spoke very briefly on account of the lateness of the hour, and covered briefly all the ground which had been passed over by the various speakers.

He announced that he had just received word of authority from Ottawa to work double shifts on the dredgers in Victoria harbor.

AMERICAN CLAIMS AGAINST MEXICO

U. S. Ambassador Says They Will Be Pressed in Due Season

Mexico City, Oct. 1.—Ambassador Wilson last night repudiated as unauthorized and gratuitous the suggestion made in Neuva Era, a government organ, that claims for indemnities by Americans should be withdrawn.

"The embassy regards an expression of this kind," said the ambassador, "in particularly bad taste, emanating from the newspapers supposedly representative of the opinion of the government of Mexico. Some of these claims lack just or legal foundation in international precedent, and their payment will not be urged by the United States. Others are just and well-founded, either in international practice or on the ground of international amity. The government of the United States expects and in due season, will diplomatically insist that all claims for damages, which come either within clear precedent or the precedents growing out of amicable considerations, shall be dealt with justly and generously by the Mexican government."

TESTING GRAIN.

Winnipeg, Oct. 1.—The Dominion grain commissioners are in daily session in Winnipeg with a view of receiving complaints of grain men and promoting the rapid movement of the grain. It is up to the railways now. The commission realizing the importance of securing adequate means for the testing of moist grain, are at the present time equipping the various inspection offices at Winnipeg, Duluth, Fort William, Calgary and Toronto, with what are known as "moisture testers."

To-day the commissioners are in conference with Premier Roblin and Principal Black of the Manitoba Agricultural College, with a view to making arrangements for the testing of grain as to its milling and baking qualities. While the bulk of the grain is coming in grades above the average, there is much low-grade grain in sight.

Consider Well

In considering the wisdom of an investment at View Royal there are a number of points we would have you dwell upon. First we have never given our name to a subdivision in which purchasers have not got good value. Second the amount of Esquimalt waterfront is extremely limited. The greater part is taken up, the bulk being in the hands of wealthy Victorians who are establishing large homesteads, and concerns that need never be expected to give those with more modest requirements a chance. Therefore this is a rare opportunity and we say with all sincerity that those who fail to see us before all the lots are gone—which will be but a short time—will regret their lack of foresight.

VIEW ROYAL

Incidental Incidents

When showing a client over View Royal yesterday afternoon our attention was attracted by a shout of excitement. We looked up just in time to see a lady in the midst of a struggle with a salmon which, quite apparently, was of more than the average in size. The fish got away—but that isn't the point. It serves as a practical illustration of our claim that the best of sport is available in these waters. If anything further is necessary as further substantiation of the statement it may be mentioned that a prominent member of our firm, noticing a violent ripple in the otherwise calm surface of the water, leaned from the beach and scooped in enough herring to make a tasty breakfast. And the best of it is these are not "fish" stories.

If you are an old Victorian you won't need to be told of the charms of Esquimalt harbor. If you are a newcomer you shouldn't lose any time in seeing this beautiful land-locked body of water. In the former case you wouldn't be surprised to hear that it was an actual race for our seafront properties in the View Royal subdivision yesterday. Most of them already are gone. Many of those lying back have been snatched up. We made a record first day sale as we predicted. Should you happen to be a stranger, either in search of a home-site or a good investment, you will be missing an opportunity if you fail to give us a call today. We will take you to one of Victoria's show places and we will lay before you a group of quarter acre properties, all of which overlook the water, enjoy the full privileges of the actual "waterfronts," and front on artistically laid out streets that are to be graded and along which the Esquimalt Water Works Co is to pipe water forthwith. Can you afford to hesitate?

Motor launches flash to and from different points of interest on Esquimalt harbor the year round. One with a home at View Royal and a boat has the varied charms of the entire island coast spread before him.

Who doesn't enjoy a canoe ride? There is rarely a day that this spot cannot be enjoyed on the waters of Esquimalt. Another agitation has been started for the construction of the short canal necessary to join Portage Inlet and Esquimalt. When this happens, View Royal property holders will be upon an inland sea that will make Victoria famous the world over.

View Royal Is Only Four Miles From the City

It is charmingly located on a harbor that has long been recognized as one of Victoria's show places. The subdivision is high class in its design as well as in its surroundings. For neighbors it already boasts of several of Victoria's most prominent citizens. Not only the waterfronts but every lot has a "royal" view of the harbor, the Straits and the Olympics. Every lot has waterfront privileges. Street ends have been made to come at the most desirable parts of the coast so that all may enjoy the pleasures of the seashore. Motor boats can safely be anchored all the year round, so thoroughly is the seafront protected.

SEE US TO-DAY

Here is a typical picture of View Royal. The richness of the soil is demonstrated by the bumper hay crop. The glory of the outlook may be imagined by the peep one gets of the harbor, Flisguard Light House and the Straits beyond.

Esquimalt Water Is Guaranteed on Every Street

By virtue of a contract entered between the Esquimalt Water Works and our company. With the general progress of the west, the exploitation of Vancouver Island's resources, the forthcoming opening of the Panama Canal, and the present activity of the E. & N. and the C. N. railways, who can say what Esquimalt, said to be "the world's second harbor," has in store. When you buy one of our quarter acre lots, at our reasonable prices, and on exceptionally easy terms, you get more than value, a beautiful summer homesite, and a property that lies directly in the path of development.

Col. S. Hughes Says Help Will Be Forthcoming in Time of Trouble

London, Oct. 1.—In acknowledgment of the many courtesies and kindnesses extended to Colonel, the Hon. Sam Hughes and the Canadian officers during their stay in Britain, the minister of militia gave a private dinner last night at the Junior Army and Navy Club at which there were sixty among others, Lord Dundonald, Lord Brooke, Colonel Ward, of the war office; Lieut.-General Settle and Lieut.-Col. Newton Moore, of Australia; Colonel Robin, of New Zealand; Sir Trevor Dawson, of Vickers, Maxims & Co., Mr. Pickens, of the Cammell-Laird Co.; Sir Lewis Mitchell, of South Africa; Colonel Harper and Sir Max Aiken.

Colonel Hughes, in proposing a toast to the King, expressed on behalf of himself and his officers, the greatest appreciation of the kindness of the war officials, General Sir John French, General Sir Ian Hamilton and the various military, naval and shipbuilding establishments. Their visit had been most instructive and he was convinced that nothing but good could result from annual visits and interchange of officers. He said the time has arrived when the whole forces of the Empire should come more closely together.

The minister had been asked, he said, whether, in the event of war in Europe, Canada would come to the assistance of Britain. "The best answer to all such questions," he said, "is that given the last time the Canadian government had found itself obliged by the stress of public opinion to permit her soldiers to go, and I feel sure if any Canadian government were to prevent her soldiers coming to the aid of the motherland in the time of a crisis it would be found impossible to stop them."

In conclusion Colonel Hughes declared for an imperial parliament for the whole empire with representation for each overseas dominion.

The minister sails for Canada on Friday on the Empress of Britain.

Stefansson Says Blonde Eskimos Do Not Need Traders or Missionaries

New York, Oct. 1.—Vilhjalmur Stefansson, who discovered the blonde Eskimos in the Coronado Gulf region, hopes to find a way to keep all kinds of civilization, including religion, from them. He fears their speedy extinction if civilization gets to them, and he will go to Ottawa this week to ask the Canadian government to issue a proclamation of perpetual quarantine of the whole district.

"I want to shut out the missionaries as well as the traders," said Stefansson, who is himself a graduate of the Harvard divinity school.

"The blonde Eskimos do not need the trader and have a religion of their own which answers their purposes very well."

"The most deadly disease that ever struck the Eskimos anywhere was the measles. Fifty per cent. of them die of this disease. The missionaries and their supply ships are as likely to carry measles as are the fur traders."

DARING ROBBERY.

Vancouver, Oct. 1.—A man dressed like a lumberjack and wearing a white handkerchief tied over his face, went into the station of the Great Northern at Walde, B. C., on Sunday evening, and holding the agent at bay with a revolver, took two hundred and eighty dollars in cash and a large amount in Baker Lumber Company cheques and made his escape. Chief Minty of the provincial police at Fernie was notified at once and left with four constables.

LAXATIVE FOR OLD

PEOPLE—"CASCARETS"

What Glasses Are to Weak Eyes—Cascarets Are to Weak Bowels

Most old people must give to the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation. The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to walk slowly. For age is never so active as youth. The muscles are less elastic. And the bowels are muscles.

So all old people need Cascarets. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect this gentle aid to weak bowels. The bowels must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at fifty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics. Youth may occasionally whip the bowels into activity. But a lash can't be used every day. What the bowels need is a gentle and natural aid. One that can be constantly used without harm. The only such aid is Cascarets—and they cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store. They work while you sleep.

IN PANAMA CANAL

Senator Newlands Opposed to Attempt to Impose Heavy Tolls

Salt Lake City, Utah, Oct. 1.—In the building of the Panama Canal and the carrying out of vast irrigation projects, the efficiency of a democratic form of government as a constructive force in the world is on trial, according to Senator Francis G. Newlands, who as president spoke yesterday before the National Irrigation Congress.

At the outset Senator Newlands said he opposed any attempt to impose heavy tolls on foreign ships for their use of the Panama Canal.

"It is desirable that this great national public utility should in the end be self-compensatory," he said, "and that the tolls should cover administration and create a sinking fund for the bonds. So far as our coastwise trade is concerned, the canal should be considered a part of our inland waterways, upon which it has been customary, notwithstanding the large expenditures of the government in the interest of navigation, to impose no restrictions or burdens, but the loss occasioned by such remission should be frankly imposed upon the federal treasury and not upon ships engaged in foreign trade."

Foreign countries could justly object to the imposition of the entire cost of administration and bond redemption upon foreign ships; they cannot object to the payment of their proper proportion, determined by their relative tonnage.

"The curbing of the Mississippi floods and the generation of great power from the conserved waters are both prospective fruits of the irrigation projects," Senator Newlands said. He declared the storage of water for power would reduce the cost of storage of waters for irrigation.

THE SCOOPER.

To the Editor:—Your editorials upon that "anticipated speech" will meet with general approval from all decent, common sense people, Conservative or Liberal. Our good friend, the Colonist, carries his "scoop" maneuvers, and tampering, a little too far in the effort to get ahead of its contemporaries at such ethical cost. The next morning will be an anticipatory "scoop" of a sermon or an every Saturday morning, for publication before they are preached on Sunday morning, with occasionally an "accidental omission of credit." For which there is always a ready and graceful apology; in the event of exposure.

RATEPAYERS MUST CONSENT.

To the Editor:—See the Colonist of this morning, 1st October, for the above heading. The Colonist ought to remember how in the past its dictators have been put aside by the ratepayers. In this instance we will insist upon knowing how the balance of the said by-law has been spent. We all know the amount to be raised, also the contract price; what has become of the balance to leave only $35,000 on hand? If the Colonist or the authorities do not give a satisfactory reply now, it will not be lost sight of at the general election in January next.

BASEBALL PLAYER ASSAULTED.

St. Joseph, Mo., Oct. 1.—Outfielder Powell, who reports to the Detroit Americans next season, was attacked in front of a hotel here last night, where he was going to attend a banquet of the St. Joseph team and was badly beaten by a number of negroes. He was rendered unconscious by a blow on the head. No reason for the attack is known.

BEACON HILL PARK SHOOTING CASE UP

NOT GUILTY, IS PLEA OF CHAS. SPAULDING

Edward Quinn Discharged—
Hindu Cases May Go Over to Next Assize Court

Charles A. Spaulding was placed on trial this morning at the assizes charged on a true bill returned by the grand jury yesterday afternoon with attempted manslaughter. The accused pleaded not guilty to the indictment, and was not represented by counsel. Spaulding asked the court for assistance in obtaining witnesses, namely, his wife, who he said, would be his only witness in regard to the act he is charged with, and A. W. Davis and J. J. Sullivan, of Seattle, who would testify as to his good character. His lordship remarked that he would not adjourn the trial for character witnesses, but would allow an adjournment of 15 minutes for Spaulding to interview his wife regarding her evidence.

Mr. Moreby, representing the crown, was instructed by his lordship to advise Mrs. Spaulding that she is not bound to give evidence, but should do so, she will have to be subject to cross-examination by the crown attorney.

True bills were returned by the grand jury on all indictments yesterday afternoon, but this morning Mr. Moreby, in referring to the case of Mola, a Hindu charged with perjury, said there was doubt regarding the evidence, and one witness was ill in Vancouver. In regard to the case of Massa Singh, charged in the same case, a witness is ill, and the cases were set aside to be mentioned again before the assizes end. His lordship remarked on the duty of the attorney-general in investigating the facts regarding an accused, and the unfairness of holding an indictment over the head of a man for a long period, where the evidence was so slight as to call for comment by prosecuting counsel. The Hindus are charged in connection with evidence given by them in a real estate action tried before His Honor Judge Grant at Vancouver. They are defended by J. H. Long.

Mr. Moreby applied for the execution of bail, $100, in the case of Willy Hill, an Indian charged with indecent assault at Sidney. The case was transferred from the last assizes and the Indian went hop-picking instead of attending at his trial. His lordship temporarily declined the application with leave to mention it again before the assizes close.

Chas. A. Spaulding is charged in connection with a shooting affray at Beacon Hill park on August 23 last, when an Italian named Louis Felice was wounded by two shots fired from a revolver while he was walking in company with the wife of the accused.

Felice gave evidence in a cot at the St. Joseph's hospital, alleging that Spaulding fired the shots at him and wounded him. Mrs. Spaulding, when called in the police court, declined to testify. The jury selected is composed of Peter Bugslag, Alfred Adam, M. A. Fletcher, A. E. Levings, H. B. Jones, T. A. LePage, J. H. Owens, Ambrose Tait, Chas. Pater, Chas. T. Atterton, R. C. Hall and Fred Harting. The prisoner exercised his right of challenge, rejecting four young men.

The evidence given this morning by Dr. E. C. Hart, who attended the injured man, and Mrs. Mary Stiehl, was a repetition of that made in the police court.

In the case of Edward Quinn, brought from Vancouver for trial and charged with indecent assault on a young girl, the jury found for the accused yesterday afternoon, and he was discharged.

TECHNICAL EDUCATION HERE

MINISTER'S VIEWS ON PROJECTED SYSTEM

German Compulsion Plan
Would Not Suit Here—The London Polytechnic

Hon. Dr. Young is giving considerable attention to the scheme he has now in hand for establishing a system of technical education in British Columbia, and will be ready to proceed as soon as the Dominion commission has made its report. The commission is expected to recommend financial aid from the Dominion to the provinces for this purpose, and of course such aid would be welcome in British Columbia as elsewhere, but in any event the problem of technical education will be taken up seriously and practically in the near future, so the minister declares.

"Such technical education as the government has in mind," says Hon. Dr. Young, "should, I think, be kept separate from the university which will devote itself more to the higher branches of engineering. While I was in England I devoted some attention to studying the plan they have adopted there and it seemed to me to be suited to our needs. The German plan would not suit us at all because it has an element of compulsion which would be impracticable in this country."

"As Dr. Bryce remarked the other day, the days of apprenticeship are over and therefore the idea is to teach boys what they would formerly have learned as apprentices. The Polytechnic in England is doing what struck me as the right kind of work. The management is assisted by representatives of the Trades and Labor Council, who come every week or so to see what is being done and to offer advice. When these schools were started in England there was a little opposition at first from the workmen, but this has quite disappeared, so that the schools and the workmen are in complete harmony."

"The result is that whereas boys under the apprentice system had to pay a hundred pounds or thereabouts to the master to whom they were bound; they now learn their trade in the school, and when they complete their course they are able to start earning money right away, and the average pay at which they start is about ten shillings a week."

"Practically everything is furnished which the boys require in order to learn the different trades. Provision is also made for teaching the girls domestic science, laundry work, sewing and things of similar sort. I was not in the sewing side of the building, but Mrs. Young was there and she tells me it is an almost perfect system. I saw the laundry and the domestic science work and was much impressed with their efficient, practical character. The girls are trained so that they can go into a kitchen and take complete charge or are fitted for positions as housewives or whatever else has to be done in connection with housekeeping."

"In the teaching of domestic science we are going to do something in the new Normal school in Victoria. We are building in the school a suite of rooms where actual practical housekeeping will be done. Each girl will be expected to take charge of these rooms for a week, of course, under the supervision of the matron. This is an idea I picked up from the Macdonald college at St. Anne's, and we intend to make it quite a feature of the Victoria Normal school."

The intention is that our technical schools shall be under the school board wherever they are established. The department would put up a building and make whatever financial grant may be found advisable. This building would be used for the younger pupils getting their technical training during the day, and would also be available for the night school for the older persons. The work in Vancouver, for instance, will be under the supervision of the Vancouver school board but the

LOOKING BACKWARD OVER HALF A CENTURY

Edgar Fawcett's Reminiscences Are Published—Topographical Information

Edgar Fawcett's expected volume on the history of this city in the days of its formative stage has now been issued from the publishers. It is a collection, with amplifications, of articles contributed to the press in recent years, and is entitled "Some Reminiscences of Old Victoria."

The author has become, with D. W. Higgins, who arrived here a few months before Mr. Fawcett, the leading authority on the early history of Victoria.

The volume, coming out in the Jubilee year of the city's incorporation and seventy years since Sir James Douglas inspected the site for the new fort of the Hudson's Bay Company, will reach the public at a suitable moment and give the reader a chance for reflection on the marvellous changes which have occurred in the interval since the fur traders built Fort Camosun without a nail.

Mr. Fawcett, however, is in error in speaking of Nathaniel Hicks as the first city clerk of Victoria, as Algeron Austin was undoubtedly the first, and held office for some two years prior to the appointment of the author's friend, William Leigh, then of the Hudson's Bay farm at the Uplands. In fact on another page, referring to Mallandaine's directory, Mr. Fawcett states that Austin was clerk of the first council, of whom Nathaniel Hicks was a member.

Everyone who appreciates the work of the pioneers will value the industry and zeal of Mr. Fawcett in preserving the names and inscriptions on the tombs in Quadra street cemetery, which the lapse of time and the changes of succeeding years bid fair to obliterate.

No one can fail to be interested in the chapter on the early fire brigades, and the zealous, unflinching industry of the citizens who all turned out to help one another. The old Merryweather engine of the Deluge company, which replaced the first Hunneman tub, has been again in use on the northeast sewer recently, proving that its days are not yet numbered. The city is proud of its paid brigade to-day, but it also has cause for pride in the energies of a past generation.

Mr. Fawcett prints a roster of the "Fifty-Eighters," whose numbers are fast thinning, corrected to March 1 of this year. Many of the names of those who peopled the infant city in its pioneer days have become household words; escape from public life, while a stream of newer faces has flown in to keep the city marching forward to her destiny.

The description of the festivities of forty years ago cannot fail to interest a generation which has introduced new forms of amusement, without losing that reputation for observing with fete right loyalty the dates of regal birthdays and festivals. The illustrations are excellent, and conjure up pictures of men now no more and times gone by. The sketches of the streets in the early sixties are vivid, and indicate how the city looked when the cannon ball might have been fired down Government street without injuring anyone.

Empress Theatre.

Gertrude Verona and her troupe of cyclists, five young women and Master Wallis, one of the best of Europe's trick riders, offer the headline attraction at the Empress Theatre this week. They offer a treat for those who like trick and fancy riding. In this act great attention has been paid to big effects, most of the difficult feats being performed at the same time by the whole troupe. The act is warmly applauded and carries out the promise made for it. The troupe achieved quite a success in Europe, where they had a long engagement at the Berlin Wintergarten.

As judged by dramatic standards the playlet of Robert Hildreth is the feature of the show. With Josie Sisson and Helen Harriett and the remainder of his company he presents a six-part playlet, playing the four other roles—pompous old rustic, chore boy, college chap and tottering old miser—himself. The playlet is entitled "A Four-Leaf Clover," and the scene is laid in the hills of California, the special scenery carried by the company offering a fine setting.

Charles Klass, violinist, and Ben Bernie, accordionist, are two clever musicians, and though their act is not the headline, it does not lack for applause. They offer an assortment of melodic tit-bits that please immensely, and it is only after they have returned to respond to numerous encores that they can leave the stage. Their harmony is a feature of this week's bill.

Another musical act that pleases, rivaling the youths with violin and accordion, is that of the Bohemian quartette, composed of Gerald Gordon, first tenor; Norman Stanley, second tenor; Thad C. Packard, baritone, and Jack H. Kerns, basso. A lot of good singing is broken by some droll patter or minstrel classification.

Gustave Neuss and Gilbert Eldred, comedy acrobats, with a large variety of mechanical props and stage gear, furnish a melange of gymnastics and comedy, and win much applause.

Prominent Vocalist Coming.
Miss Eva Mylott, who is shortly to appear here in concert, was the recipient of the most distinguished honors on her visit to her native land, Australia, last summer. The home coming of Australia's famous contralto was a great event, of which even the government took official notice.

When the R. M. S. Makura steamed into the docks at Sydney, the ship was gay with flags from bow to stern. Captain Gibbs, recognizing the importance of the day, had ordered the Makura to be decorated in honor of Miss Mylott, and the flags remained aloft until she walked ashore.

The distinguished singer was welcomed by the minister of education (Mr. C. A. Carmichael), the minister of agriculture (Mr. J. Treloar), the Governor of the Commonwealth bank, the Lord Mayor and other officials, as well as by hundreds of old friends. In fact, Miss Mylott was besieged immediately the people from the shore were allowed on board.

In an interview granted the musical critic of the Sydney Evening News, Miss Mylott remarked that in Europe, Canada and the United States, she appeared before the most select and critical audiences and sang in nearly all the finest concert halls throughout the world. The critics everywhere had accorded her the highest tribute, and she has now an established place among the world's greatest artists. Her charming personality has won for her a wide popularity and a large circle of excellent friends.

She has never suffered the painful experience of many artists, namely, that of delayed recognition, for on her first appearance in the city of Philadelphia, one of the leading critics said: "We have heard nothing finer in grand opera than this unheralded singer."

Miss Mylott also said, "I have always found plenty of kind friends and sincere appreciation, especially in Canada and the United States, and these audiences most responsive. There may be a great difference of opinion among artists as to the musical taste of the American people—but they have always given me such a good reception, that, of course, I think their taste is excellent."

"With reference to life in America, I found it decidedly strenuous, both socially and professionally. I have been especially rushed with engagements the last year, having appeared in every state in the Union, and in all the provinces of the Dominion of Canada, appearing as the soloist with the famous Theodore Thomas orchestra, and on an extensive tour with Jan Kubelik, a long tour as soloist with the Russian Symphony Orchestra, the Apollo Club of Chicago, and many other leading organizations in oratorio and concert."

After a delightful visit to the principal cities of Australia, where she gave concerts, Miss Mylott returned to the new world for her winter season. This will include a tour of Canada and the United States, the first concert to be given on November 14. From this date, she has engagements to the end of March next year.

Miss Mylott has made a complete success of her chosen career. Blessed with a most charming presence and a glorious voice, she studied under the world's best teachers, and faithfully worked to be what she is to-day, the most popular and most sought for contralto on the concert stage.

Miss Mylott is equally at ease in concert and oratorio work, her magnificent voice carrying to the innermost parts of the largest churches and halls.

Her repertoire includes all the well known oratorios as well as a rare collection of the classics in French, German and Italian as well as English. The music lovers of this city are assured a musical treat, when Miss Mylott appears here in concert.

The Versatiles.

Of the many popular forms of entertainment that are presented from time to time, to brighten our leisure moments, the offering of Stuart Whyte's "Versatiles," who play the Victoria Theatre to-night, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday, promises to be one of the most interesting. The first part consists of a Pierrot show of the real old country variety. There is this important difference, however, as, whereas the Pierrot show at home is often a mediocre affair, Stuart Whyte has been at the greatest pains to get together a company of really clever people, who are thoroughly conversant with their business, and each of whom is an artist in his or her particular line.

This class of entertainment has made enormous strides, both in quality and popularity in the last year or two. An instance of the rapid development of it might be mentioned that three of the principal theatres in Liverpool were each offering Pierrot or similar shows at the same time, and playing to enormous audiences.

From all accounts the "Versatiles" are equal to anything they have at home, and should draw huge crowds during their visit.

BIRTHDAY CALENDAR

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

You may be tempted to waste time and money in foolish ways, but at this time especially you should act with serious purpose, for success awaits you. If you are in employ, your honest efforts will not be overlooked.

Those born to-day will be well liked and will have too many friends for their ultimate good. They are capable of high attainment if guided, and to some extent, controlled by those of a more practical mind.

IDEAS OF A PLAIN MAN

BY DR. FRANK CRANE

There's no use telling an idealist that he is not practical. Of course he isn't. If he were, he wouldn't be an idealist.

For the essential function of that part of the soul which sees moral truths, is precisely the thing which will not work.

We get along, get on and get things done, by bending and twisting truth to fit conditions.

The conditions consist in faulty human nature, half-wrong customs and decaying institutions.

These are the bricks and mortar you must use if you are going to build.

"Thou art Peter, the Rock, and upon this Rock will I build my church." And that is what has been and always will be the matter with any church.

The church is built on human nature. But religion is built on the idealist. It is a dream, a vision, a goal.

Whatever is done, whatever is fact, is a compromise. A man is half angel, half dust. So is all he does.

Hence do not be alarmed when told that your ideals will not work; for if they would work they would not be ideals.

SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE.

The special feature of Scribner's Magazine for October is the group of articles on "The Modern Terminal." The great congestion of population in cities within recent years has confronted the railroads with a most astounding problem. They are meeting it by the construction of colossal stations in which every device of science and architecture is used to facilitate the handling of passengers and trains. Five great terminals in the United States at Washington, D. C., Kansas City, the Chicago and North Western at Chicago, and the Pennsylvania and New York Central in New York city—have cost, it is estimated, about $350,000,000.

W. Symmes Richardson writes the first article, "The Terminal—The Gate of the City." Samuel O. Dunn, editor of the Railway Age Gazette, elaborates the problem from the point of view of the practical railway man who must take into consideration not only the present necessities but the future; because these tremendous expenditures are only justified if they meet the needs of many years to come. The illustrations for both articles are most elaborate, and show how much beauty has recently been evolved where we were accustomed to unsightly train sheds.

The last instalment of George Meredith's remarkable letters introduces the most distinguished company in the correspondence—Frederick Greenwood, J. M. Barrie, Alphonse Daudet, Pinero, Leslie Stephens, and Thomas Hardy. They show that right up to the very end of his long life his intellectual activity and his wide sympathies were preserved at their best; and, more than all, they reveal an acute critic, a kindly philosopher, and a gentle man.

President Finley continues his interesting exposition of "The French Heart of America"—showing the effect on our whole civilization of the French explorations of the Mississippi River.

Senator Lodge, in his "Early Memories," gives many amusing and interesting anecdotes of his school days in Boston, 1860-1867.

The fiction of the number includes: John Fox's serial, "The Heart of the Hills"; "The Counterclaim of the Cradle," a French-Canadian story by Henry van Dyke; "The Hacienda," a story of an American in Mexico, by Molly Elliot Seawell; "The Chairman of the Meeting," by Frederick Landis, the history of a Northern soldier who went South to lecture about Lincoln.

EMPIRE SALOON CASE HEARD ON APPEAL

Police Record of Interdict's
Arrest and Detention is Sought by Judge

Contending that the chief witness for the prosecution, an interdict, was too drunk to remember where he obtained the liquor which the proprietor of the Empire hotel had been charged with supplying, J. A. Aikman, appearing before Judge Lampan for the appellant, asked his honor this morning to reverse the finding of the police-court magistrate. The appellant, Sidney Mitchell, maintained no sale had been made by himself or his employees.

The principal witness for the crown was arrested on May 30 while drunk and retained in jail until June 8, when he was brought forward to give evidence.

Mr. Aikman held this morning that a man who had taken so long to recover could not be regarded as a reliable witness.

Mr. Harrison, appearing for the crown, believed the interdict, although held for safe-keeping, had been liberated earlier than stated, and Judge Lampan adjourned the case to allow Mr. Harrison to produce the police records to show the dates of the interdict's arrest and of his detention.

His honor held that if the interdict had to be detained for safe-keeping the length of time suggested, it was plain that he, when arrested, would not have a very clear idea of the facts.

Mr. Aikman also contended that the interdict in the condition assumed would be unable to be positive as to whether he entered the door of the Empire saloon, or of a saloon which immediately adjoins it.

The interdict swore that he was served by a man in a black coat, while the proprietor and his employees testified only white coats were worn by the Empire waiters.

Inspector Hatcher, on the other hand, held that he entered the Empire immediately after the interdict left, and saw a man wearing a black coat, on duty there.

MAYORS' SALARIES IN SMALLER CITIES

Remedial Legislation Promised to Validate Sums Already Voted

Special legislation will be required to straighten out the tangle which has arisen with regard to the salaries of mayors in the smaller cities of British Columbia. The law as passed last session was intended to restrict the amount of salary payable in certain cases, but the legislature in its zeal made some amendments in the Act as originally introduced, and the result is that it is now very doubtful whether cities of under twenty thousand inhabitants have the legal right to pay their mayors any salaries at all.

The matter was first brought to the attention of the attorney-general by Prince Rupert, but it has since developed that Kamloops, North Vancouver, New Westminster and other places are probably in the same fix. It was certainly not the intention of the legislature to deprive these places of the privilege of paying mayoral salary and in fact they have proceeded as if they had a right to do so.

The legal department of the government is of the opinion that where the usual annual municipal by-law governing such matters was passed for 1912 prior to the time when the royal assent was given to the Act, the payment would be legal for the present year at any rate, but it is considered desirable to remove doubts. Otherwise some ratepayer might take the matter into court, and the aldermen might find themselves held personally liable for the illegal expenditure.

Remedial legislation is therefore officially promised for next session, and this will be made to a considerable extent retroactive.

"THE WOMAN"

Stirring Drama at Victoria Theatre
Last Evening.—Small Attendance.

Owing to the vice-regal reception at the provincial buildings, there was only a meagre attendance present to witness David Belasco's presentation of "The Woman" at the Victoria theatre last evening.

One of the strongest dramas ever witnessed in Victoria, the play is not for the timid or squeamish. The author gets to grips with life from the start, and presents a mass of it to his audience without an apology, without any of the scruples of the timorous playwright.

He takes as his theme the whirlpool of corrupt American politics into which the good name of a woman is being sucked down, and is only saved irretrievably by the staunchness and courage of a young "phone-girl." The fight between the woman and "the ring" is one of the most realistic pieces of dramatization ever put on the stage. Threats, cajoling, third-degree, reviling, all are tried in turn, and all fail to break the proud spirit of the little "phone-girl" who is attempting to save the honor and good name of her friend.

There is a pretty little love-story intertwined with the remainder of the plot, and the ending is, of course, in a happy vein.

Toronto, Oct. 1.—Bernard McMahon, charged with wounding as the result of an assault on his wife, who sustained several cuts from a knife which he used on her, was yesterday given three years in the penitentiary.

STRONG UNDERTONE*IN STOCK MARKET

London Heavy Seller on Account of Unsettled Conditions in Balkans

(By Courtesy F. W. Stevenson & Co.)
New York, Oct. 1.—The market did not display that degree of uniform strength which characterized the trading during the past, and while on the whole the undertone was strong, still it was quite apparent that some rather influential distribution was being conducted. Despite heavy engagements of gold for import, loans were called quite freely, and call money advanced to higher levels than recently witnessed with the prediction that a further hurry is not improbable during the next few days.
London was reported heavy seller on account of the unsettled state of international politics. The market is being held up by the interests which were primarily responsible for the forcing of it out of the rut in which it had reposed for some weeks, but unless the volume of outside participation becomes such as will make distribution relatively easy, the list is likely to lag at times. Trading was good at the close.

Prices on B. C. Copper and Granby Smelter Firm on Local Exchange

(By Courtesy F. W. Stevenson & Co.)
Victoria, Oct. 1.—Trading on the local stock exchange today manifested in a degree the healthy investment demand that is being created for the sound copper issues. Fifty shares of British Columbia Copper sold at $5.60 per share, and ten Granby Smelter at $5.00. Closing prices on these stocks were firm. One thousand Portland Canal Mining sold at 2 1/2, the highest level of some time past, while Glacier Creek was bid 1/2. Coronation Gold is likely to remain quiet for some little time.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

Winnipeg, Oct. 1.—Some improvement is reported in cash and export circles, but there is a great deal of uncertainty just now as to the trend of the market. There is no disguising a general uneasiness as to the European political situation. Should the horizon clear prices will go lower, but with the possibility of some one dropping a spark in the powder mine at any moment those willing to take the bull side were not lacking and prices stiffened in American markets. Less Selling Pressure From Outside Trade—Cables Report Strength Abroad

(Courtesy F. W. Stevenson & Co.)
Chicago, Oct. 1.—After a fairly active market with a stronger opening wheat closed 1/2 and 1/4 higher from yesterday. The early bulge was on the strong cable. Liverpool was about 1/2 higher and Paris at a good advance at the time of opening here because of the political rumors from the Balkans and important covering of short lines for London account.
There was less selling pressure from outside trade. Heavy primary receipts were partly offset by export clearances. The increase of stocks at Minneapolis is only 25 per cent as great as the same time last year.
For some time traders have called attention to the fact that the scarcity of old corn must make a strong market in September contracts for those who sold and could not secure the property to deliver. Now September is off the board the market is a more natural one. Weather conditions are favorable for maturing crop.

THREATS OF VIOLENCE.

Salem, Mass., Oct. 1.—Threats of violence if Joseph J. Ettor and Arturo Giovannetti, leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World, and Joseph Caruso, on trial here charged with responsibility for the alleged murder of Anna Lopizzo, are not given their liberty were received to-day by officers prosecuting the case.

Sixty-eight talesmen were questioned to-day without any additions to the jury.

MINERS' STRIKE AT BINGHAM.

Bingham, Utah, Oct. 1.—The first of the month found no change in the strike situation at Bingham. The union officials are anxiously awaiting news from other quarters. The report that work was to begin at the United States and Yampa mines has not been substantiated.

Reports are persistent that strike-breakers are being brought into camp, but those in position to know simply deny such rumors.

POWERS STRIVING TO PRESERVE PEACE

Friendly Representations to Turkey Regarding Reforms in Macedonia

London, Oct. 1.—The most urgent and categorical representation in favor of the preservation of peace in the Balkans has been made to Sofia by the Russian foreign minister, Sergius Sazonoff. The other members of the triple entente, France and Great Britain, are likewise using their good influence, while the members of the triple alliance, Germany, Austria and Italy, are just as determined to prevent the outbreak of hostilities.

The powers have again brought before the Porte in the most friendly manner the urgent necessity for the introduction of reforms in Macedonia. The Greek minister here received a telegram to-day from Greek Premier and War Minister Venizelos, stating that the Hellenic government had decided to mobilize its land and sea forces in concert with the other states. The mobilization orders apply to subjects living abroad.

The Balkan situation caused an uneasy opening in most sections of the stock exchange here to-day, and when news of continental advances arrived with numerous selling orders, the market became flat all around.

Turks to Mobilize.
 Constantinople, Oct. 1.—Hadi Pasha, chief of staff, announced to-day that the government had decided to mobilize the Turkish army.

Red Cross Active.
 St. Petersburg, Oct. 1.—An extensive hospital equipment has been prepared by the Russian Red Cross Society for service in Bulgaria and Serbia in the event of war. The equipment is being loaded on cars to-day so as to be in immediate readiness.

FREE TERMINAL SITE FOR C. N. R.

Agreement Reached by Company and City Council of Vancouver

Vancouver, Oct. 1.—A deal was completed yesterday between the C. N. R. and the city council of Vancouver for the giving of the railway free terminals along the Great Northern in the eastern end of False Creek, which lies in the heart of Vancouver. East of the Main street bridge there lie 300 acres, at present tidelands, which, according to agreements made with the G. N. R. and C. N. R., are to be drained and filled in. One hundred and forty acres were last year donated to the G. N. R. which has four years in which to erect a million-dollar depot and install works on the filled-in land. The filling work is now proceeding apace. The C. N. R. agreement made yesterday provides that $10,000,000 are to be spent by that company in entering and improving the section remaining. A great boulevard will be run down the centre of the entire property, along which industrial sites will be reserved by the city for leasing to manufacturing companies desiring tracks. Work by the C. N. R. is to begin within 90 days and must be finished as rapidly as possible.

BYE-ELECTIONS IN ONTARIO.

Toronto, Oct. 1.—Writs will be issued to-day for the provincial bye-elections at East Middlesex and North Waterloo. Nominations will be held on October 21, with polling on October 25. The first-named vacancy was created by the death of R. A. Sutherland, the Liberal member, while in North Waterloo Dr. Lackner, the Conservative member, has resigned to accept the appointment as sheriff of the county.

FOR ASSAULTING POLICE.

One Man Gets Six Months and Another Three Months in Jail.

Vancouver, Oct. 1.—Six months in the county jail at hard labor was the sentence meted out by Magistrate Shaw in the police court yesterday morning to Murdoch Matheson, who was found guilty of brutally assaulting Police Constable Marrott, while that officer was in performance of his duties. Sig Hagner, another man apprehended by Police Constable Oliver for assaulting him when he was engaged in rescuing his brother officer, received three months.

ROBBERY AT NANAIMO.

Store Entered and Diamonds and Jewelry Valued at Over $2,000 Stolen.

Nanaimo, Oct. 1.—Diamonds worth $2,000 and several hundred dollars' worth of jewelry were stolen last night from the jewelry store of E. M. Harding.

The plate glass window at one side of the front of the store was smashed in and the diamonds and jewelry grabbed by the thief who escaped in the darkness.

FENIAN RAID VETERAN DEAD.

WATERWAYS COMMISSION.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—The international joint commission on waterways met in this city to-day for what is regarded as the most important session that has yet been held by that body.

The chief purpose of the meeting is to formulate a programme for the investigation of the pollution of the Great Lakes and other boundary waters between the United States and Canada. The question, in the opinion of officials of the two governments, has become the most pressing of all problems affecting the welfare of the people of the two countries.

TIMBER RECORDS BROKEN.

Vancouver, Oct. 1.—All records for timber scaled by the government scalers was broken last month, when a total of $1,400,000 feet of logs were passed by the government coast scalers. The figures for the interior have not yet been received by the Vancouver timber office, but Timber Inspector George D. McKay estimates that to be another 20,000,000 feet. This is one more indication that the present will be the record year for lumbering in the province.

The fees for government royalties, timber licenses and scaling amounted to $47,583, during September, a large increase over the corresponding month of last year when the fees aggregated $30,000.

CANADIAN IMMIGRATION.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—During the first five months, April 1 to September 1, of the current fiscal year, 242,509 immigrants arrived in Canada. Of this number 153,396 arrived at ocean ports, and 28,269 from the United States.

These figures show an increase of 14 per cent as compared with the number of arrivals for the corresponding months of the last fiscal year, which were 141,921 at ocean ports and 71,833 from the United States, making a total for the same five months of 1911 of 212,554 persons.

During the month of August this year there were 32,867 arrivals, 19,558 of them having been at ocean ports and 13,309 from the States, as against 30,115 for August last year, 15,996 of whom were at ocean ports, and 17,119 from the States.

CREMATED IN WRECKAGE.

Express Messenger Burned to Death When Fire Destroys Cars.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 1.—Two Pullman sleeping cars, four days coaches and two express cars broke away from a rapidly moving Louisville & Nashville train near Elkmont, Ala., early to-day, plunged down an embankment, then caught fire and burned, but every passenger escaped death and less than a score received minor injuries. An express messenger, caught in the wreckage of his car, was cremated.

The flames spread so rapidly that occupants of the Pullmans were compelled to flee in their night-clothing, abandoning their baggage.

It is believed a broken rail caused the accident.

ONTARIO FRUIT CROP.

Toronto, Oct. 1.—Fruit prices in the Ontario districts are falling rapidly. In the Niagara district peaches are rotting in thousands. Orchards bought up weeks ago are being picked by the farmers themselves, many of them refusing to allow the apples to go off their farms and are holding until the buyers pay the cash. Heavier crops are expected next year.

Bungalow Snap

ACCUSED OF SETTING FIRE TO BARQUE

Peruvian Sailor Arrested—Prisoner Tells Story of Brutal Treatment

South Bend, Wash., Oct. 1.—Toribio Espinoza, a sailor from the Peruvian barque Cavern, which is loading lumber at Knappton for Callao, Peru, has been brought to this city and placed in the county jail on a charge of setting fire to the ship.

According to the story of Captain Gustav Borg, the sailor, who attempted to desert the vessel at Knappton, was placed under arrest. Espinoza, who is an educated man, far superior to the ordinary Peruvian seaman, tells a different story, charging the most brutal treatment on the northern trip. He said he had refused to work on Sunday because he was sick, but had no intention of deserting because he would lose his pay, as he had signed for the round trip. When he returned to the ship in the afternoon he declares he was set upon by the captain and the mate, choked, handcuffed and thrown in the peak. There he managed to take a match from his pocket to light a cigarette, after which he threw the match in a stove. The stove was full of paper and a fire was started, and before he could get the stove closed smoke began to arise. He was noticed from the deck and he was charged with setting fire to the ship. He claims there was no can of oil there at all and says the room was used for storing of provisions.

VEGETABLE PRICES RISING.

Montreal, Oct. 1.—Farmers and market gardeners are making no attempt to take vegetables from the ground, and meanwhile prices are soaring high as a result of the severe frost on Sunday. The price for grapes doubled to-day. Pickling tomatoes, which were being sold for 75 cents a box last week, are $1.50 this week. What potatoes remained in the ground were ruined, the farmers declare.

STRIKERS RETURN TO WORK.

Lawrence, Mass., Oct. 1.—The strike of 24 hours declared by the Industrial Workers of the World employed in the textile mills of this city as a protest against the imprisonment of Ettor and Giovannetti ended to-day, when 12,000 operatives who had remained away from the mills yesterday returned to work. Some minor disturbances were reported.

MR. HOLLING RECEIVES WELCOME IN THE EAST

Colbourne Street Church, Brantford, Extends Hearty Greeting

Rev. T. E. Holling, now of the Colbourne Street Methodist church, Brantford, and formerly of the Metropolitan church here, has been tendered a formal welcome by his new congregation.

There was no doubt as to the heartiness of the welcome and the utmost spirit of friendliness and good feeling was displayed, while members were becoming acquainted with each other. Then the chairman, Frank Leeming, in his address, expressed the opinion that, although he realized that a high standard had been set by the previous pastors of the church, he had no doubt that Rev. Mr. Holling would fill the position as well as any of his predecessors.

James Harley welcomed Mr. Holling and his family on behalf of the men of the church, who, he said, were not aristocrats, but men, who worked, some with their hands and some with their brain. He recalled President Lincoln's quotation, "God must have loved the common people, because he made so many of them." The speaker assured Mr. Holling that he had the sympathy and support of the men of the church. Miss Rounds extended a similar welcome on behalf of the ladies.

Mr. Holling thanked those present for the hearty welcome with which they had received him. It had been a joy for him to labor for the 23 years of his ministry in the prairie provinces and the province by the sea, and while he confessed that he had some misgivings in coming east, they had very speedily vanished, and he was now completely satisfied with his Ontario charge.

He complimented the church on the high state of its efficiency. He was especially delighted with the large numbers of men, who got together each Sunday morning in the Brotherhood, which indeed, is second to none in the city. He was also pleased to note a strong missionary spirit in the church. The new pastor looks forward to the future with hopeful anticipation and trust of the success which he feels sure awaits his ministry. In baseball phraseology, he assured the congregation that all that was necessary to make his ministry a success was "air tight support."

JOINT ARRANGEMENT FOR FRUIT INSPECTION

Difficulties of Location at Vancouver Have Delayed Settlement

Nothing will be done this year towards changing the site of the provincial fumigation and fruit inspection plant at Vancouver. The present site, which is just south of where the B. C. electric cars start for New Westminster, belongs to the C. P. R. The railway last spring expressed a desire that the government should give possession as soon as convenient, and since that time an effort has been made to find another suitable location. Two places were suggested by the C. P. R., but neither was acceptable to the provincial authorities. On the other hand one place which would have pleased the provincial authorities was held at a figure which the minister of agriculture considered prohibitive. Not being able to reconcile himself to the prices of Vancouver real estate, Hon. Mr. Ellison held the matter in abeyance.

The Great Northern Railway also intimated its willingness to provide a site on its property, but did not indicate any particular location, and negotiations with them have got no further. Meantime the season for the importation of nursery stock has arrived and it has therefore become impracticable to do anything further until next spring. No public interest is suffering by the delay, and nobody is worrying, except possibly the C. P. R., which wants possession of the land.

Meantime plans have been prepared for the building, which it is hoped to erect next year. These plans will be submitted to Hon. Mr. Burrell during his present visit to the capital, accompanied by a suggestion that the Dominion government should pay a share of the cost of the structure. This Mr. Ellison thinks would be only fair, as the inspection and fumigation of plants coming into the province is a duty which devolves jointly on the two governments. There is reason to think that Hon. Mr. Burrell will take the same view and that he will recommend a grant for this purpose in the estimates to be submitted to the next session of the Dominion Parliament.

PROGRESSIVE CLUB TO INITIATE CANVASS

Dinner at Westholme Grill on Oct. 15—Exclusively "Victorian" Booklet Projected

The regular weekly business and social meeting of the Victoria Progressive Club was held last evening in the Westholme grill, and a large gathering of the active members was present. The business of the evening was undertaken with enthusiasm, R. F. Fitzpatrick, third vice-president, being in the chair. One of the interesting items of the programme was a challenge suggested by the programme committee for a contest in the enrollment of new members. R. F. Fitzpatrick and L. N. McLean challenged each other to the contest. Slides were chosen from among the membership of the club and at the close each captain had selected twenty men to assist in a two weeks' campaign. The contestants will carry the available membership in the city and at the conclusion of the campaign, on October 15, the event will be celebrated by a dinner in the Westholme grill.

It was also decided that, as the announcement of the choice of a slogan for the club and the prize literary essay on the future of Victoria must be made at some public function, the affairs to be held on that date would be the occasion. The committee of award has been going through the essays and will announce their decision and award the prizes on that date.

Among other matters considered were the project of publishing an "exclusively Victorian" booklet, the copy for which had been prepared by a member of the club and submitted last night. Estimates of the cost of production will be presented at a future meeting, when the scope of the work to be issued will be finally decided. The club will hold monthly luncheons and monthly dinners hereafter and this will make the social gatherings of the club fortnightly in recurrence. The first dinner will be on October 15 and a programme committee was appointed to outline the literary and other features of the event. A large amount of other incidental business was transacted before adjournment and the Progressive Club is now one of the "live" organizations of the city.

SEWERS INQUIRY REPORT EXPECTED

Committee Must Await Stenographic Report Before Considering Findings

The sewers investigation committee will be in possession of the stenographic report of the sessions at an early date, and then it will be possible to sit and consider the findings. It is hoped that the report of the committee may be available at an early date, so that the results of the protracted sessions may become of use in saving any unnecessary expenditure on the remaining work which has to be accomplished this year.

There is, however, one very important aspect of the investigation which should not be lost sight of in the inquiry, and that is the effect that the report may have on a future sewer loan. The city will not vote the money in January next unless the public have confidence that no money will be squandered in inconsidered expenditure, and that the work to be done will be of a character which deserves the belief that it is thorough and assured. There is so much trunk sewer work incomplete of the design mapped out in January, including the big trunk sewer in the northwest of the city, the right-of-way of which has yet to be expropriated for a considerable distance. The situation in Victoria West is also one requiring relief, and will probably result in forcing a comprehensive scheme to be adopted. Mr. O'Meara told the committee of inquiry he had such a committee in view, but whether the council will adopt it remains to be seen.

40 Acre Farms Near Railway

Our forty-acre farms along the line of the Pacific Great Eastern railway are ideally located for mixed farming, fruit or poultry ranching. The upper Fraser is close to the property. Markets are near and good prices are obtained. The soil is rich and the production is large.

The clearing is light, in many cases needing nothing but the plow. The climate is such that horses often graze outside all winter. The price of these farms, for a short time, is only $640, and the terms are $50 CASH AND $15 PER MONTH. Anyone interested in the purchase of farm lands should consult our Victoria agents at once.
